HERE COMES SANTA CLAUS TO MARIN

Passengers Charge Ship's Crew Panicked

But Survivors Have Praise For Rescue Vessels

FUNCHAL, Madeira (AP) — Some survivors of the Lakonia cruise ship disaster charged on arrival in port here today that the Greek Line crew panicked, discipline cracked and that passengers had to take charge of the lifeboats.

There was praise, however, for the Argentine rescue ship Salta, which docked here with 475 survivors—307 passengers and 168 crew members.

With 24 persons known dead among the 1,036 passengers and crew members, there were reports to the British Admiralty and the Greek Line in London that the list of 135 missing might be further reduced.

TOTAL 935

A radio message to the Admiralty from Casablanca said the rescued would total 935. If true, that would mean a reduction in the missing to 77.

A Greek Line spokesman told of receipt of a message from the British liner Strathedeen reporting the liner's first news of the rescue of 98 persons—76 by the U.S. streamer Exporter and 22 by the French motor vessel Barakat.

STILL BURNING

The stricken Lakonia, which caught fire shortly before midnight Sunday, still was burning 180 miles north of Madeira. She was listing to starboard and her stern was lowering ominously.

Ships and planes still searched the area around the hulk, but the Admiralty said it was unlikely any survivors were left in the Atlantic waters.

Five survivors, an American couple and three Britons, told the same story of the disastrous night.

TERRIBLE SHOCK

Ivan Buchanan, of Atlanta, Ga., who has been living in England, said:

"I am going to take it up with my lawyer, it was a terrible shock, the crew was horrible."

Survivors said they thought the fire started in the Lakonia's barber shop.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Lovat of London said the fire was detected around 11 p.m. while a party was going on in the public lounge.

"There was no fire alarm," said Lovat. "The crew was in a state of chaos and pushed passengers out of lifeboats. The (lifeboat) pump stopped working immediately. We found no provisions in the lifeboat. It was disgraceful. The crew screamed their heads off for five solid hours. . . . The Argentine crew of the Salta was wonderful, all night pulling people out of the water."

Arthur George of Norwich of England said no lifeboat drill had been held during the liner's three days at sea and the flares in his boat didn't work.

"The crew was so undisciplined that the passengers had to take command of the lifeboats," George said.

The Salta also brought six bodies to Madeira. More than an hour later came a British rescue ship, the Strathoden,

Victory For LBJ —Aid Bill Passed

House Acts On Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House finally handed foreign aid victory to President Lyndon B. Johnson today with passage, in an unprecedented early day-before Christmas session, of a bill with the feature on which he staked White House prestige.

The vote of 189 to 158 was a galling defeat for Republicans who had once beaten back the section giving the president power to guarantee credit for private wheat sales to Russia.

The bill was hurried over to the Senate, which held a token session today, but the leadership put off action until a session set for 10 a.m. Monday. Passage at that time is all but taken for granted.

MUSTER QUORUM

There had been some talk of trying for passage at another token session to be held Friday, but leaders figured it will be easier to muster a quorum of 51 senators to do business Monday.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), one of the opposition leaders, has served notice he will insist on a live quorum and a roll-call vote.

The measure's compromise three-billion-dollar allotment of money for the aid program was not a major issue, though it was less than the amount Johnson had said would be the safe minimum.

POSTPONED TRIP

"Men and women of good will put their country first—some at great sacrifice—to see that the national interest was served," the president said in a statement released only minutes after the vote.

"I am grateful to them and I am sure the nation is grateful to them."

VOTE LINE-UP

The vote lined up 187 Democrats and two Republicans for the grant of presidential authority. Opposed were 25 Democrats and 133 Republicans.

Soon after the vote, and Family Together —After 27 Years

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Together for Christmas is a happy phrase, but William Cole grandchildren have not been able to voice it for years—until today.

In fact, it has been 27 years since his family was together on any occasion. His children parted in tragedy in Oelwein, Iowa, soon after the death of their young mother.

Paul Cole, was only three at the time. The youngest in the family, he drove to Novato with wife, Sue, and son, Wayland, 5, from their home in Lubbock, Tex.

A sister, Mary Alice Elizabeth Castillo and her six children, Michael, Loretta, Doris, Jackie, Linda and David, came the shortest distance, from Oakland.

William Cole Sr. came from Oelwein where he is working in an auction barn. He is a hale 62 years old.

Host and hostess for the big gathering of the clan are Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Cole of 903 Scott Street, Novato.

"I think we will have 25 here for dinner tomorrow," Mrs. Cole said today, trying to count noses. "At least that's all I know of right now."

The party will be increased by gathering of in-laws.

"We're having turkey," Mrs. Cole said. She jokingly said she had thought about giving

Christmas Services Scheduled In Marin

There will be no lack of festive rites and services tonight and tomorrow as Christmas comes to Marin's churches.

Scores of Protestant Churches have scheduled candlelight services this evening. Many will have midnight services, heralding the arrival of Christmas.

All Catholic services have scheduled midnight Masses, with Masses again tomorrow. In most cases, tomorrow's schedule will follow the usual Sunday schedule of Masses.

Catholic churches and some Protestant churches have scheduled confessions this evening.

In many churches where the Advent season is strictly observed, tonight's services will include the first Christmas singing. Many other churches have organized their best voices already for neighborhood caroling and church programs.

Listings of services in most Marin churches were printed in Saturday's Independent-Journal. Received too late for that list were:

A 7:30 p.m. candlelight service at Faith Lutheran Church, San Rafael, and a 10:30 a.m. family service there tomorrow. An 8 p.m. service at Trinity Lutheran Church, San Rafael, with a 10:30 a.m. Communion there tomorrow. A 7 p.m. candlelight service at Peace Lutheran Church, Mill Valley, with 9 and 10 a.m. services there tomorrow.

Fair Christmas Weather Forecast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Generally fair weather is forecast for Christmas for most of California.

The Weather Bureau said, however, that some rain is likely in the extreme north tonight and early tomorrow, with snow at high levels.

And the fog and low overcast that has shrouded the Central Valley probably will continue.

Little temperature change is indicated.

Fresh south winds were reported on the north coast but winds in other areas are gentle to moderate.

Developer Offers Land For Library In Novato

Harry Heifetz, San Rafael developer, has offered Marin County land for a branch library in Novato.

Heifetz said today he was willing to give the county "sufficient" land for a new library off Rowland Boulevard extension in his Scottsdale development.

"I understand they are thinking about a 10,000 square foot building," he said. He said he was willing to donate a large enough site to provide a "park-like setting with trees and benches" for a building of that size.

The master plan of Heifetz's Scottsdale development was approved last week by the Novato City Council. It calls for 1,500 apartment units on 125 acres west of Highway 101 and south of Yukon Way to the planned Crossroads Shopping Center.

Jerrold Moore of 1584 South Novato Bouleyard, co-chairman of the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce library committee, asked Heifetz for a library site in November, he said.

"I presume that it will come up before the county supervisors soon," Heifetz said. He said it would be an outright gift to the county to be used exclusively for library purposes.

Johnson Planning To See Connally

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — President Lyndon B. Johnson today switched travel plans to include a side visit to the governor's mansion for a Christmas Eve chat with his friend and protege, wounded Texas Gov. John B. Connally.

The president was to take a helicopter from Bergstrom Air Force Base to municipal auditorium in downtown Austin and then drive to the mansion.

Taxable Sales Hit Record

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Taxable sales in California have broken another record, the State Board of Equalization reported today.

Transactions subject to the sales and use tax reached an all-time third quarter high of seven billion dollars during July, August and September, an increase of 9 per cent over the same three-month period of 1962.

The tax yield to the state from the 3 per cent tax was 210 million dollars; to local governments from their additional 1 per cent levy, 70 million dollars.

New car sales paced the gains, as they had during the first six months of 1963. Total sales of 796 million dollars yielded 23.9 million dollars in taxes. That's two million dollars more taxes than in the same period of 1962.

Other major gains: dry good and department stores 609 million dollars sales, 18.3 million dollars in taxes for an increase of 10.7 per cent; restaurants 547 million dollars sales, 16.4 million dollars in taxes, up 6.4 per cent; building materials 383 million dollars sales, 11.5 million dollars in taxes, up 13.3 per cent.

Rep. Clausen Is Named To Latin Nations Unit

Rep. Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City), has been named to a new "task force" to promote friendship with Latin American nations, the Associated Press reported today from Washington, D.C.

Clausen, who represents six north coast counties including Marin, is a member of a nine-man Republican task force to work for a foreign policy that will lead to friendship with Latin American nations based on respect and understanding.

Mindszenty Yule

BUDAPEST (UPI)—Joszef Cardinal Mindszenty, Roman Catholic primate of Hungary, today observed his eighth Christmas Eve in the asylum of the U.S. legation here. The cardinal took refuge in 1956 after the Hungarian freedom revolt was crushed.

Pope Says Trip Is Not As 'Tourist'

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI said today his pilgrimage to the Holy Land is no "tourist excursion" but rather an "historic voyage" to pray to God for peace and unity in the world.

In a speech to the cardinals and other members of the Roman Curia gathered for their traditional Christmas Eve audience, the pontiff said his trip will be "rich in grace and peace for the church and the world."

"What is this trip?" he asked rhetorically. "A tourist excursion? A political expedient? An evasion of our duties which keep us here?"

Then, answering the questions he posed, the pope added:

"We hope to encounter the Lord in our trip, which seems for its novelty, for its significance, for its resonance, to assume great importance, the significance of which we cannot yet calculate, but which we feel to be immense, at least as a symbol, at least as a portent.

"It is, in fact, an historic trip, rich perhaps in grace and in peace, for the church and the world."

Turning to the Ecumenical Council which closed its second session on Dec. 4, he said the third session which begins next fall "seems to us the most laborious, the most important."

The pope added his thanks for the work already done, but said members of the curia — the central administrative body of the church — must face "a new fatigue" for the third session "under many grave and decisive aspects."

"Much remains to be done," he said.

He also recalled the memory of Pope John XXIII, whom he succeeded as pontiff slightly more than six months ago and the man who summoned the second Vatican council to bring the church into tune with the times.

"We render once again homage and offer a pious prayer," to his "dear memory," the pope said.

EISENHOWER CALLS TRUMAN: 'GREETINGS'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Former President Harry Truman said today he had received holiday greetings from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Truman, here with his wife to spend Christmas with his daughter's family, said Eisenhower called him at his home in Independence, Mo., to wish him a merry Christmas.

The 10-year feud between the former presidents came to an apparent end in Washington last month during the funeral of the late President John F. Kennedy. Truman and Eisenhower rode together in the procession and chatted amiably.

Truman told reporters today "I never had any falling out with him.

"The only trouble was he had a lot of damn fool Republicans around him" who misled him. "He's a good man," Truman said.

Johnson Pays Last Respects To Rep. Green

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—President Lyndon B. Johnson, enroute to a Yuletide visit to his Texas home, came here today to pay his last respects to Rep. William J. Green Jr., (D-Pa.), long time friend and veteran Democratic politician who died last Saturday.

The president flew here from Washington after applauding House morning passage of the foreign aid bill with its controversial wheat credit amendment, an action he said was in the public interest. He said he was sure that the nation would be grateful.

He was accompanied here by his daughters Lynda, 19, and Lucy, 16, together with a number of House member mostly from the Southwest. Those from Texas planned to fly back there with Johnson and members of his family after the funeral.

The Sierra Nevada was thrust out of an ancient sea that once covered most of California.

President Says He Got Advice From Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson, in some personal revelations of life as chief executive, reports he got advice and suggestions in a long memo from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Leading another of his impromptu and expansive goodwill tours of the White House last night. Johnson told a foursome of women reporters that Eisenhower sat down for two and one-half hours the day after John F. Kennedy's assassination to help Johnson with his ideas.

Eisenhower wrote in longhand on sheets of long yellow legal pad paper and then dictated in the Executive Office Building after having paid his respects with top officials who came to view Kennedy's coffin in the East Room of the White House.

"Some things I said to the joint session of Congress he suggested," Johnson said.

In a Christmas party mood, after entertaining members of Congress at the White House last night, Johnson called back the four reporters to pose for pictures with him and his wife on a curving marble staircase, and then launched them on a 45-minute tour. It went through the Flower Room, the swimming pool where he said he tries to take twice-daily dips, and his oval office where he said the president is called on to sign about 700 documents a day.

Although he said he had only one hour's sleep the night before, mulling over problems of his office, and had missed lunch except for a glass of diet drink, Johnson declared "I never felt better in my life."

He said he has trimmed down from 226 pounds to 205 and felt he was in "perfect condition."

Johnson, walking from the formal rooms of the White House, back to his office in the west wing, took the reporters along, pausing to show them sight along the way and carrying much chit-chat about his new life and his philosophy of the office. Many of his remarks he placed "off the record."

Johnson ended his impromptu and friendly discourse by sitting down at his office desk and autographing pictures of his family for the four reporters—Isabelle Shelton of the Washington Evening Star, Dorothy McCardle of the Washington Post, radio-TV news writer Hazel Markel, and Frances Lewing of the Associated Press.

He said he wanted to give women reporters a break. And he added he thought the women, covering White House events, were as good as the men reporters and sometimes better and he wanted their bosses to know it.

Heaviest Snow Falls In South

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fast-moving early winter storm dumped the heaviest snowfalls of the century in some Southern states swept across broad areas in the eastern section of the nation today.

The pre-Christmas storm, fanned by gusty winds, disrupted air and highway travel, created hazardous driving conditions and inconvenienced millions.

The storm, on the first full day of winter, left amounts up to 16 inches in western and southwestern Virginia and up to eight inches in the New York metropolitan area. It hammered most of the northern half of the Atlantic coastal region and other Eastern areas after sweeping across Southern states.

The snow, followed by sleet and freezing rain in many Eastern areas, was blamed for at least 15 deaths, mostly in traffic accidents on icy and snow-covered highways, exposure from cold and heart attacks induced by over-exertion.

Cold air dipped deep into parts of the Southland, notably across the snow-covered regions in Tennessee and Kentucky. The mercury plunged to 12 below zero in Memphis, Tenn., a record low for the city, which is covered by 15 inches of snow, the heaviest amount of the century.

Highway travel in the South was extremely dangerous on ice-covered highways. State troopers allowed only vehicles with snow tires and chains to travel on highways between Alabama and Tennessee, north Georgia and north Mississippi.

Last year, 19 per cent of Americans' disposable income went for food.

Greek Prime Minister Quits, Asks Vote

Papandreou said last night's vote of confidence, which his government won 167-130, was not acceptable because 139 of the affirmative votes were from his own union of the center party.

Because of the holiday period, King Paul is not expected to announce a decision on the resignation until Thursday. But it is understood he may ask Zenophon Zolotas, president of the Bank of Greece, to form a caretaker government.

LOS GATOS (AP) — Five persons—including three teen-agers—were killed late last night in a head-on crash between a truck and a station wagon on Highway 17 near Los Gatos, the Highway Patrol said.

Investigators said the truck, driven by Arthur Edwin Berg, 22, of Los Gatos, crossed the center line and struck the station wagon. Berg and a passenger, James Edward Sweeney, 32, died instantly.

The station wagon burst into flames. In it were Larry Alexander Kammerer, James Joseph Marino and Beck Jo Brown, all of Santa Clara. All were 16.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Crop production scored record highs this year in California with 35.4 million tons harvested, the State Department of Agriculture announced today. The cash value, 2.1 billion dollars, also set a record.

Agriculture Director Charles Paul said the record production was 4 per cent above last year's record output and 10 per cent higher than the 1957-61 average.

The new record was attributed to unusually high harvests for grapes and sugar beets.

Drinking Often Cause

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Excessive drinking was listed as a problem for 14 per cent of the youths placed in Youth Authority custody under new commitments during 1962.

Yule In Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — Throngs of West Berliners carrying gifts to brighten Christmas Eve for their relatives in East Berlin passed through gaps in the Communist Berlin wall today.

Thousands of other West Berliners waited patiently in line in the snow for passes to make post-Christmas visits. The last passes for Christmas Day visits were issued yeterday.

The pass bureaus in West Berlin school gymnasiums set their opening three hours early today to permit the 240 East German postal clerks processing passes to go home at 3 p.m. and decorate their own Christmas trees.

CHP 'In Danger'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The commissioner of the California Highway Patrol has ordered an investigation into charges that patrolmen were placed in danger by failure of the FBI to keep them informed during the search for kidnapers of Frank Sinatra Jr.

Commissioner Bradford Crittenden said yesterday that the charges were made by Lt. Bernard B. Ball and officer Herbert A. Dunn.

"If the facts are such as charged by the CHP officers," Crittendon said, "I will call the matter to the attention of J. Edgar Hoover and the head of any other law enforcement agency involved."

Russ Moon Package

CHESHIRE, England (UPI) — Russia will try to land a package of "soft instruments" on the moon in the near future, British astronomer Sir Bernard Lovell predicted yesterday.

Lovell, director of the Jodrell Bank Radio Astronomy Station here, said the Soviet attempt was imminent and that the United States would not be far behind.

Sen. Smith Backing

CHICAGO (UPI) — Supporters of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.) had her implied blessing today for entering her name in the Illinois presidential primary.

Common Mart Unity

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — The six-nation European Common Market embarked today on a new phase of economic unity never before seen in its short, erratic history.

Its executive commission began a draft of proposals which will enable France, Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg to negotiate as a united community.

Agreement yesterday among foreign ministers of the market appeared to have saved the organization from disruption after a year's stagnation caused by French President Charles de Gaulle's veto last January of British membership.

Bombing At Store

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (UPI) — Eight sticks of dynamite touched off an explosion in a Kroger store late last night in what police said was the most powerful of a year-long series of grocery store bombings in the St. Louis area.

Police Lt. Fred Theriac said the dynamite was placed in the doorway of the store. It blew out a U.S. mail box and shattered all the glass in a filling station next to the store. Postal authorities were notified.

Pope Says Trip Is Not As 'Tourist'

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI said today his pilgrimage to the Holy Land is no "tourist excursion" but rather an "historic voyage" to pray to God for peace and unity in the world.

In a speech to the cardinals and other members of the Roman Curia gathered for their traditional Christmas Eve audience, the pontiff said his trip will be "rich in grace and peace for the church and the world."

"What is this trip?" he asked rhetorically. "A tourist excursion? A political expedient? An evasion of our duties which keep us here?"

Then, answering the questions he posed, the pope added:

"We hope to encounter the Lord in our trip, which seems for its novelty, for its significance, for its resonance, to assume great importance, the significance of which we cannot yet calculate, but which we feel to be immense, at least as a symbol, at least as a portent.

"It is, in fact, an historic trip, rich perhaps in grace and in peace, for the church and the world."

Turning to the Ecumenical Council which closed its second session on Dec. 4, he said the third session which begins next fall "seems to us the most laborious, the most important."

The pope added his thanks for the work already done, but said members of the curia — the central administrative body of the church — must face "a new fatigue" for the third session "under many grave and decisive aspects."

"Much remains to be done," he said.

He also recalled the memory of Pope John XXIII, whom he succeeded as pontiff slightly more than six months ago and the man who summoned the second Vatican council to bring the church into tune with the times.

"We render once again homage and offer a pious prayer," to his "dear memory," the pope said.

EISENHOWER CALLS TRUMAN: 'GREETINGS'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Former President Harry Truman said today he had received holiday greetings from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Truman, here with his wife to spend Christmas with his daughter's family, said Eisenhower called him at his home in Independence, Mo., to wish him a merry Christmas.

The 10-year feud between the former presidents came to an apparent end in Washington last month during the funeral of the late President John F. Kennedy. Truman and Eisenhower rode together in the procession and chatted amiably.

Truman told reporters today "I never had any falling out with him.

"The only trouble was he had a lot of damn fool Republicans around him" who misled him. "He's a good man," Truman said.

Johnson Pays Last Respects To Rep. Green

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—President Lyndon B. Johnson, enroute to a Yuletide visit to his Texas home, came here today to pay his last respects to Rep. William J. Green Jr., (D-Pa.), long time friend and veteran Democratic politician who died last Saturday.

The president flew here from Washington after applauding House morning passage of the foreign aid bill with its controversial wheat credit amendment, an action he said was in the public interest. He said he was sure that the nation would be grateful.

He was accompanied here by his daughters Lynda, 19, and Lucy, 16, together with a number of House member mostly from the Southwest. Those from Texas planned to fly back there with Johnson and members of his family after the funeral.

The Sierra Nevada was thrust out of an ancient sea that once covered most of California.

President Says He Got Advice From Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson, in some personal revelations of life as chief executive, reports he got advice and suggestions in a long memo from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Leading another of his impromptu and expansive goodwill tours of the White House last night. Johnson told a foursome of women reporters that Eisenhower sat down for two and one-half hours the day after John F. Kennedy's assassination to help Johnson with his ideas.

Eisenhower wrote in longhand on sheets of long yellow legal pad paper and then dictated in the Executive Office Building after having paid his respects with top officials who came to view Kennedy's coffin in the East Room of the White House.

"Some things I said to the joint session of Congress he suggested," Johnson said.

In a Christmas party mood, after entertaining members of Congress at the White House last night, Johnson called back the four reporters to pose for pictures with him and his wife on a curving marble staircase, and then launched them on a 45-minute tour. It went through the Flower Room, the swimming pool where he said he tries to take twice-daily dips, and his oval office where he said the president is called on to sign about 700 documents a day.

Although he said he had only one hour's sleep the night before, mulling over problems of his office, and had missed lunch except for a glass of diet drink, Johnson declared "I never felt better in my life."

He said he has trimmed down from 226 pounds to 205 and felt he was in "perfect condition."

After the death of their mother, the children were put in the care of aunts. Two lived in foster homes later, after the death of one of the aunts.

Some members of the family had been together from time to time over the years, but this is the first time all have been united since the family first divided.

"Families should get together," said Paul Cole.

William Cole Sr. could not agree more.

"It's good," he said with a big grin.

This Has Built-In Theft Guard

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — A group of Texarkana citizens got a chance—one by one— recently to prove the old saw that one should not stick his nose where it does not belong.

The chances came when a group of University of Houston students parked an innocent looking, tarpaulin covered trailer in front of a restaurant.

Those who couldn't resist peeking beneath the tarpaulin found themselves face to face with a live cougar in a cage.

Boy Pleads Innocent In Hotel Theft Case

Jon Theodore Kilpatrick, 19, of Larkspur pleaded innocent today in Marin Municipal Court to charges of stealing a postage meter, wall lamp and world globe from the lobby of the San Anselmo Hotel.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas set Jan. 20 for a court trial. Kilpatrick was arrested by San Anselmo police Dec. 6.

Weather Factor Not Seen On Barometer

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—It may not rain cats and dogs very often, but there's a good chance that potato leafhoppers really are rained on the countryside.

University of Wisconsin entomologists say that warm south winds moving up the Mississippi valley carry the leafhoppers aloft, and that they may get back to earth in rains or downdrafts.

Sanitation Annex Due Discussion

Proposed annexation of Kay Park Sanitary District to Almonte Sanitary District will be discussed Jan. 27 at the Almonte board meeting with Donald R. Frost, county director of public works.

Chairman Robert A. Alexander said an engineering survey showed that Kay Park, now a county service, should not be tied in with existing Almonte lines. Kay Park's lines are bad, Alexander said, due to settling of land in the area.

Almonte directors last night enacted an omnibus ordinance which puts together ordinances which relate primarily to establishment of fees and charges in the district.

They retained Edward B. Beattie of Mill Valley as district engineer. Beattie, who also serves Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District, will be paid on an hourly basis, Alexander said.

The board expects to approve a formal agreement at its January meeting with Joseph De Martini for an exclusive franchise for scavenger services. De Martini has collected garbage for a long time in the district but there has never been an agreement, Alexander reported.

Beverly Aadland Sued For Divorce

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Beverly Aadland, onetime protege of the late Errol Flynn, was sued for divorce today after a year and a half of marriage to Maurice Jose De Leon.

De Leon accused the 20-year-old Miss Aadland with "extreme cruelty" and causing "grievous mental suffering" in his suit.

The couple married in Las Vegas, June 24, 1961, and separated Nov. 25 of this year. There are no children.

Who Wouldn't Squeak?

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Mechanic John Crow found a new squeak when he checked a customer's car for trouble. He dismantled the car's generator and found a mouse with its foot caught in the mechanism.

Mother Of Four Sons Believed Span Leaper

Mrs. Elaine Wells Urban, 31, of 136 Lovell Avenue stopped her car in the southbound lane of the Golden Gate Bridge.

James K. Thurston of Daly City told California Highway Patrol Officers that as he was driving across the bridge at 10:55 p.m., he saw Mrs. Urban get out of her car and start toward the bridge railing.

By the time he got out of his own car, Thurston said Mrs. Urban had disappeared. The Coast Guard searched but did not find the body.

Robert L. Urban, an advertising executive, told the Highway Patrol his wife had left their home at 10:30 p.m. to go to San Francisco on an errand.

He said she had been under psychiatric care seven years ago in New York after she attempted to take her life.

Neighbors said Christmas presents had been placed under the tree in the living room for the four young sons: Chris, Stephen, Michael and Stanley, whose ages range from 4 to 9.

False Arrest Is Claimed In Lawsuit

A $100,000 lawsuit claiming false arrest was filed today in Marin Superior Court against the City of San Anselmo.

Leo Curtis McDaniel and William H. McKillop filed the suit exactly one year after they were allegedly "wrongfully detained" by San Anselmo police on Christmas Eve, 1962.

The two men charge they were arrested by traffic violations and were taken by Police Officers Andrew Grimes and Michael Berney to the police station, where they were pushed about, "struck on the head and body, and suffered cuts and bruises."

McDaniel and McKillop said the policemen also confiscated a hunting rifle and scope, worth $40, which were subsequently damaged.

Novato Firemen Elect Officers

All had been nominated at the Dec. 9 meeting and were elected without opposition.

LONDON (UPI) — The American television film "Elizabeth Taylor in London" was programmed by the British Broadcasting Corp. (BBC) today as part of its Christmas Eve fare.

Vandals Smash Bus Windows

Vandals smashed windows and instrument panels of five buses belonging to the former Marin Transit Authority, Marin sheriff's deputies reported today.

Damage to the buses, parked near Jacoby Street, south of San Rafael, was estimated at $3,000. Robert L. Peterson, president of the transit firm, associated with Redwood Moving and Storage Co., discovered the damage yesterday.

Deputy A. V. Menjou said rocks had been hurled at the buses.

Candle Wax Causes Fire

A pot of wax being heated to make Christmas candles "exploded" last night at the home of Angela Haines in Mill Valley, setting fire to kitchen curtains and wall.

Mrs. Haines said her daughter, Marina, was heating the wax at 5:45 p.m. on the electric stove in the kitchen of their home at 180 Cascade Drive.

Cambodia Rejects Mediator

PNOMPENH, Cambodia (UPI) — Cambodia today flatly rejected a United States proposal to send former Secretary of State Dean Acheson to Cambodia as a mediator in the strained relations between the two countries.

The secretariat of the chief of state here called a suggestion by Under Secretary of State Averell Harriman that Cambodia invite Acheson an unacceptable "imposition."

The announcement said that if Cambodia officially invites Acheson to Cambodia as proposed, it would negate the condition for reconciliation already proposed by Cambodia, namely, the convocation of an international conference on Cambodian neutrality.

Inviting Acheson, the announcement said, would give the impression that Cambodia had withdrawn its own conditions and was at fault in the dispute with the United States over American aid.

Governor Gives Annual Staff Christmas Party

He and about 50 secretaries, assistants and assorted department and agency heads, were serenaded by the 32-voice boys club choir of the St. Marks Roman Catholic Church of Richmond.

3 Soldiers Killed

HAVANA (UPI) — Three soldiers were killed and 19 persons injured today when a passenger train hit a small army tank at a grade crossing near Havana. The collision occurred during movement of an armored column.

Aunt Bessie did it again . . .

Bessie has a heart of gold and absolutely showers gifts on everyone. She also tends to be a little eccentric. Aunt Bessie forgets that kids grow and times change – well an eleven year old boy with Raggedy Ann doll tells the story! But then mother is no less perplexed about the lace antimacassars for her straight line modern chairs. However, everyone knows that Aunt Bessie is filled with enough love for ten and she really wants to please! Anyway, she admits she forgot her grand-nephew's age.

Does this make a problem? Not if Aunt Bessie bought her gifts at Macy's. We'll be happy to exchange them, or to do whatever else we can to make you completely happy. No need for lengthy explanations. Simply take your gift to the department from which it was purchased and a salesperson will help you make it right. What's more, if your gift came from a faraway Macy's (New York City or Kansas City, San Jose or Sacramento . . .) you may exchange it at your nearest Macy's! Merry Christmas.

CHEERFUL REUNION — Mary Alice Elizabeth Castillo of Oakland, plants a big kiss on the cheek of her brother William Cole Jr. of Lackland, Fla. After the death of their mother, the children were put in the care of aunts. Two lived in foster homes later, after the death of one of the aunts.

Some members of the family had been together from time to time over the years, but this is the first time all have been united since the family first divided.

"Families should get together," said Paul Cole.

William Cole Sr. could not agree more.

"It's good," he said with a big grin.

This Has Built-In Theft Guard

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — A group of Texarkana citizens got a chance—one by one— recently to prove the old saw that one should not stick his nose where it does not belong.

The chances came when a group of University of Houston students parked an innocent looking, tarpaulin covered trailer in front of a restaurant.

Those who couldn't resist peeking beneath the tarpaulin found themselves face to face with a live cougar in a cage.

Boy Pleads Innocent In Hotel Theft Case

Jon Theodore Kilpatrick, 19, of Larkspur pleaded innocent today in Marin Municipal Court to charges of stealing a postage meter, wall lamp and world globe from the lobby of the San Anselmo Hotel.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas set Jan. 20 for a court trial. Kilpatrick was arrested by San Anselmo police Dec. 6.

Weather Factor Not Seen On Barometer

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—It may not rain cats and dogs very often, but there's a good chance that potato leafhoppers really are rained on the countryside.

University of Wisconsin entomologists say that warm south winds moving up the Mississippi valley carry the leafhoppers aloft, and that they may get back to earth in rains or downdrafts.

Sanitation Annex Due Discussion

Proposed annexation of Kay Park Sanitary District to Almonte Sanitary District will be discussed Jan. 27 at the Almonte board meeting with Donald R. Frost, county director of public works.

Chairman Robert A. Alexander said an engineering survey showed that Kay Park, now a county service, should not be tied in with existing Almonte lines. Kay Park's lines are bad, Alexander said, due to settling of land in the area.

Almonte directors last night enacted an omnibus ordinance which puts together ordinances which relate primarily to establishment of fees and charges in the district.

They retained Edward B. Beattie of Mill Valley as district engineer. Beattie, who also serves Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District, will be paid on an hourly basis, Alexander said.

The board expects to approve a formal agreement at its January meeting with Joseph De Martini for an exclusive franchise for scavenger services. De Martini has collected garbage for a long time in the district but there has never been an agreement, Alexander reported.

DAILY Independent-Journal Est. 1861
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

4 EDITORIAL PAGE Tuesday, Dec. 24, 1963 San Rafael, Calif.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

This Will Be A Christmas With A Vast Difference

The deep shadow which fell across our country Nov. 22 has only partly lifted in time for the Christmas season.

That national tragedy left lasting marks everywhere, not the least among the thoughtful and sensitive dwellers in Marin County. Moreover, only last week we of the Independent-Journal, as well as thousands of others in this county and outside as well, were again saddened by the loss of Chip Day.

It avails nothing to dwell upon such matters, perhaps, yet it would be less than realistic if one were to greet the traditional time of merriment with an effort at full experience of the usual spirit.

Why should we? There is no reason to pretend that such events leave no mark. Yet on the contrary if we regard them as we should they can enrich this season in a new fashion.

It is trite to say that for many years there has been a growing tendency everywhere—less in Marin County certainly than in the great centers of population and commerce—to cheapen and degrade the true spirit of Christmas.

The cause mainly lay in a drift from putting the emphasis on children. When it comes to the fun side of Christmas, that historically fell to the children and it was a ghastly mistake for adults to chisel in. This mistake became horrible and often tragic when John Barleycorn was a major guest.

But as Christmas has rapidly spread around the world to become an international occasion, so its reasonable significance to adults has spread. Our error was that while people of all countries and every shade of religious faith, even of non-faith, adopted Christmas observance they too often failed to get out of Christmas what could be most valuable to them.

This year we're inclined to think that around the world there must be thoughtful realization of the essence of Christmas, as never before.

The times call for seriousness though not for endless, pointless mourning about any person, event or possibility of the future.

Christmas this year can and should give us a sober appraisal of the brotherhood of man, of our duty to work with and act decently toward one another; of the historic high aspiration toward love for the whole of our species. None of us will live up entirely to such ideals but we can try.

If the shocking assassination of a John F. Kennedy, or the less widely known heroism and integrity of a Chapin A. Day, jar us into realizing what Christ stood for, that is a great and wonderful thing. But it isn't at all an unattainable thing.

Mostly we set our personal sights much too low to hit any good target. This season is the time to correct our aim and to realize our power if it is based on what is right. By this we shall help not only others but ourselves most of all.

Roper Poll Shows U.S. Trend Toward International Feeling

WASHINGTON — One of the most thorough studies ever made into American attitudes on foreign policy shows that the American people do not want as president of the United States anyone who is only a reluctant supporter of the United Nations, who is disposed to draw away from our allies, who believes that U. S. military strength alone can keep the peace, or who in any way wants to turn back to a policy of isolationism.

The fact is that despite frustrations and setbacks in achieving anything like peace, Americans are today more internationalist than they were 10 years ago.

Fewer people want the U. S. to withdraw from its international commitments.

THE FINDINGS which justify these conclusions are contained in a new poll-in-depth of a wide range of attitudes for and against "closer ties among democratic nations" just completed by Elmo Roper and Associates. It was prepared for the Atlantic Council of the United States of which Gen. Lauris Norstad, former NATO Supreme Commander, is now chairman.

The poll has no political motivation. Mr. Roper simply set out to get the facts.

But the results of this poll have tremendous political implications, especially for the 1964 presidential election. They show the kind of foreign policy the American to see carried out by the people overwhelmingly want United States. They show that the great majority wants to have the U. S. knit more strongly with our allies and not in any way drawn away from them.

HERE ARE some of its most significant findings:

Despite the growth and energy in advocacy of the John Birch Society and other critics of the internationalist foreign policy of Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy, national support for a peace-through-allies has gone up during the past decade and support for a policy of peace-through-Fortress-America has gone down.

Perhaps the most revealing fact of all is that the number of Americans who feel we should not be involved in so many alliances and would like us to withdraw from those we are in, including the United Nations, has dropped 33 per cent in the last 10 years. Nine per cent held that view in 1953, 6 per cent in 1963.

On the positive side—73 per cent of the country 10 years ago supported the UN as then organized or wanted to strengthen it and other international organizations. Today 78 per cent take this view; only 6 per cent want "out."

IT IS EVIDENT that there is a strong conviction that the UN alone is not enough to keep the peace, that a strengthening of the Atlantic Alliance is needed. To most Americans dependable allies means Western Europe.

Fully documented by Mr. Roper's findings is that the American people are more opposed than ever to an inward-looking "Fortress America" foreign policy.

These findings can be a valuable guide to both political parties next year.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Tribute Is Given To Day's Fortitude

Editor, Independent-Journal:

To one who knew him only casually as one of the staff, the most inspiring quality of the late Chip Day was the man's granitic fortitude.

To see him going imperturbably about his work in the face of his bitter affliction was to be reminded irresistibly of Hamlet's tribute to our common humanity: "What a piece of work is a man!"

Mr. Senior Citizen Greets Us All

Editor, Independent-Journal:

May I express my heartiest thanks to our honorable supervisors and mayors of this lovely county we have and to the 306 senior citizens that attended the luncheon and the Ben Hur show at the Rafael Theater Wednesday.

Special thanks to the fathers of our city for their warm expression and the hopes for a good future to all the seniors of Marin County. I also want to express my thanks to all those who called on the telephone (from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m.).

Last but not least, thanks to the Independent-Journal for their wonderful publicity it gave this affair. I promise that by the middle of summer I'll give the I-J some more work.

P. S. A Merry Christmas to all.

P. S. S. A Happy New Year, too.

Anyway, Schools Are Out!

Editor, Independent-Journal:

There is no room in the inn;
There is no room in our schools;
Is there any room in our newspapers?

This is a little Christmas verse I wrote, thinking of the children who live in Marin County, below the snow belt. Probably it will have more appeal to parents than to the children.

We can't have any snow,
Not cold enough for snow,
We may not have a fireplace
With a nice big chimney flue,
But somehow Santa always finds a way.

But we can have a tree
With things for you and me,
and lots of light and decorations gay
And little ones will 'rise
With starlight in their eyes,
So early in the morning Christmas Day.

And so the whole day through,
No matter what we do.
Remember while we work or while we play,
That the shepherds watched the sky
While the angels sang on high
For the Baby Jesus, born on Christmas Day.

And let those whom this may offend turn quickly to one of the other sections. There is music for the little song, should any be interested.

Admiration For Chip From A Friend

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Tonight's San Diego Union-Tribune carried word of Chip Day's death. Nostalgia grips me, and deep regret, but mostly admiration.

I haven't heard from Chip since mid-War II, when he was in my home city of South Pasadena. Would you see that his family knows I realize what a fine person they lost?

Chip was working on the Santa Paula Chronicle, not long out of Stanford, when I went to work there. An immature, unsure, shaky girl reporter couldn't have asked for a kinder mentor and friend. Chip was somewhat older brother kind, and growled at me when necessary (often), but he saved me many times from behavior unbecoming.

The fact that a young, vigorous man has cancer doesn't register with a giddy 22-year-old female. It does with a 45-year-old one who has had it, and been pronounced cured. He treated this problem as a nuisance which he would not permit to bother others. Only as I read the news story did it occur to me what a valiant fight he was putting up.

I was astute enough to realize he was one of the world's few gentlemen (from the definition "gentle men") and I rather want his family to know how that even then I appreciated it.

Very sincerely,

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

A HANDFUL OF SHEPHERDS

A few "nobodies" were singled out by Almighty God on the first Christmas to represent all mankind in paying homage to the new-born Savior—and to be first to announce the "good news" to others.

They were unlettered shepherds, rough-and-ready men, who lived on the fringe of civilization. But the small efforts they made have been an inspiration to millions down through the centuries.

Reflect on the Gospel account of these poor shepherds, as told in chapter two of St. Luke:

They were the first to be told:

"The angel said to them, 'Do not be afraid, for behold, I bring you good news of great joy which shall be to all the people; for today in the town of David a Savior has been born to you, Who is Christ the Lord.'"

They responded immediately:

"So they went with haste, and they found Mary and Joseph, and the Babe lying in the manger."

They didn't keep it to themselves:

In God's sight, no one is a "nobody." Each man has an eternal value for what he is and does.

Only 1.09 Per Cent Negroes In Ex-Confederate Schools

By CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

WASHINGTON — In the tenth year since the Supreme Court's anti-segregation school decision of 1954 little more than 9 per cent of the Negro public school students in Southern and border states are attending elementary and high schools with whites.

The 11 former Confederate states have only 1.06 per cent of the Negro public school enrollment in biracial schools—30,798 Negroes out of a total of 2,901,671.

The six border states and the District of Columbia have 56.5 per cent of the Negro public school enrollment in biracial schools—283,773 Negroes out of 502,254. Almost 100,000 of this group enrolled in biracial schools are in the District of Columbia.

THESE STATISTICS were gathered by the Southern School News, an independent, non-partisan publication in Nashville, Tenn.

The 9.2 per cent of the region's Negro public school students attending schools with whites this year represents an increase of 1.4 per cent over last year.

The Southern Education Reporting Service, which publishes the News, first surveyed the situation in 1960. Its findings were: in 1960, 6 per cent of the region's Negro enrollment were in school with whites; 1961 saw 6.9 per cent; 1962, 7.8 per cent.

ALTHOUGH ONLY 9.2 per cent of the area's Negro enrollment is in schools with whites, 43 per cent of the total Negro enrollment is in districts that have begun desegregation. Of these 1,453,580 Negroes in the desegregated districts, about 22 per cent are actually in desegregated schools.

Only one state in the South remained with none of its Negro students enrolled with whites—Mississippi. Mississippi has 291,971 Negro public school students going to all-Negro schools and 304,226 white public school students going to all-white schools.

Alabama has a token integration of 11 Negro students, out of a total enrollment of 287,414 Negroes, going to school with whites; South Carolina has 10 Negroes, out of 258,955, going to school with whites; Georgia has 177 out of 337,534.

After extraordinary displays of patience, the parents of a three-year-old tomboy had taught her to say grace before meals. Then one day they heard her carefully reciting the prayer while she was taking her bath.

"This isn't the time to say grace," called in her mother. "You do that just before you eat."

"I know," called back the youngster cheerily. "I just swallowed the soap."

When Andrew Jackson was president, he appointed a Quaker youth, Richard Vaux, secretary to the legation at the Court of St. James. In a letter home to his mother, Richard wrote, "I went to a ball at the palace and even danced with Princess Victoria.

His mother read the letter carefully, then told her husband, "I do hope that our Richard will not marry out-of-meeting!"

Johnson Pals In Congress Prove Most Accommodating

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON— President Johnson's old congressional pals not only are busily cleaning up the long-stalled legislative calendar for him but also providing a payroll boost for four members of his staff.

They are Walter Jenkins, long-time administrative assistant; George Reedy, press aide; Clifford Carter and Jack Valenti, Texans summoned by Johnson to help him.

Although working in the White House directly for the the new president, the quartet is on the payrolls of the Senate and House Appropriations Committees — at the maximum salary allowed for their staffs of $18,500.

THAT'S SOMEWHAT LESS than the White House pay scale for their jobs.

The unusual backstage arrangement is due to Johnson's retention of the late President Kennedy's staff. As White House funds are budgeted on a quarterly basis, money was not available to pay the four new Johnson assistants. TODAY'S EDITORIAL

This Will Be A Christmas With A Vast Difference

The deep shadow which fell across our country Nov. 22 has only partly lifted in time for the Christmas season.

That national tragedy left lasting marks everywhere, not the least among the thoughtful and sensitive dwellers in Marin County. Moreover, only last week we of the Independent-Journal, as well as thousands of others in this county and outside as well, were again saddened by the loss of Chip Day.

It avails nothing to dwell upon such matters, perhaps, yet it would be less than realistic if one were to greet the traditional time of merriment with an effort at full experience of the usual spirit.

Why should we? There is no reason to pretend that such events leave no mark. Yet on the contrary if we regard them as we should they can enrich this season in a new fashion.

It is trite to say that for many years there has been a growing tendency everywhere—less in Marin County certainly than in the great centers of population and commerce—to cheapen and degrade the true spirit of Christmas.

The cause mainly lay in a drift from putting the emphasis on children. When it comes to the fun side of Christmas, that historically fell to the children and it was a ghastly mistake for adults to chisel in. This mistake became horrible and often tragic when John Barleycorn was a major guest.

But as Christmas has rapidly spread around the world to become an international occasion, so its reasonable significance to adults has spread. Our error was that while people of all countries and every shade of religious faith, even of non-faith, adopted Christmas observance they too often failed to get out of Christmas what could be most valuable to them.

This year we're inclined to think that around the world there must be thoughtful realization of the essence of Christmas, as never before.

The times call for seriousness though not for endless, pointless mourning about any person, event or possibility of the future.

Christmas this year can and should give us a sober appraisal of the brotherhood of man, of our duty to work with and act decently toward one another; of the historic high aspiration toward love for the whole of our species. None of us will live up entirely to such ideals but we can try.

If the shocking assassination of a John F. Kennedy, or the less widely known heroism and integrity of a Chapin A. Day, jar us into realizing what Christ stood for, that is a great and wonderful thing. But it isn't at all an unattainable thing.

Mostly we set our personal sights much too low to hit any good target. This season is the time to correct our aim and to realize our power if it is based on what is right. By this we shall help not only others but ourselves most of all.

Roper Poll Shows U.S. Trend Toward International Feeling

WASHINGTON — One of the most thorough studies ever made into American attitudes on foreign policy shows that the American people do not want as president of the United States anyone who is only a reluctant supporter of the United Nations, who is disposed to draw away from our allies, who believes that U. S. military strength alone can keep the peace, or who in any way wants to turn back to a policy of isolationism.

The fact is that despite frustrations and setbacks in achieving anything like peace, Americans are today more internationalist than they were 10 years ago.

Fewer people want the U. S. to withdraw from its international commitments.

THE FINDINGS which justify these conclusions are contained in a new poll-in-depth of a wide range of attitudes for and against "closer ties among democratic nations" just completed by Elmo Roper and Associates. It was prepared for the Atlantic Council of the United States of which Gen. Lauris Norstad, former NATO Supreme Commander, is now chairman.

The poll has no political motivation. Mr. Roper simply set out to get the facts.

But the results of this poll have tremendous political implications, especially for the 1964 presidential election. They show the kind of foreign policy the American to see carried out by the people overwhelmingly want United States. They show that the great majority wants to have the U. S. knit more strongly with our allies and not in any way drawn away from them.

HERE ARE some of its most significant findings:

Despite the growth and energy in advocacy of the John Birch Society and other critics of the internationalist foreign policy of Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy, national support for a peace-through-allies has gone up during the past decade and support for a policy of peace-through-Fortress-America has gone down.

Perhaps the most revealing fact of all is that the number of Americans who feel we should not be involved in so many alliances and would like us to withdraw from those we are in, including the United Nations, has dropped 33 per cent in the last 10 years. Nine per cent held that view in 1953, 6 per cent in 1963.

On the positive side—73 per cent of the country 10 years ago supported the UN as then organized or wanted to strengthen it and other international organizations. Today 78 per cent take this view; only 6 per cent want "out."

IT IS EVIDENT that there is a strong conviction that the UN alone is not enough to keep the peace, that a strengthening of the Atlantic Alliance is needed. To most Americans dependable allies means Western Europe.

Fully documented by Mr. Roper's findings is that the American people are more opposed than ever to an inward-looking "Fortress America" foreign policy.

These findings can be a valuable guide to both political parties next year.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Tribute Is Given To Day's Fortitude

Editor, Independent-Journal:

To one who knew him only casually as one of the staff, the most inspiring quality of the late Chip Day was the man's granitic fortitude.

To see him going imperturbably about his work in the face of his bitter affliction was to be reminded irresistibly of Hamlet's tribute to our common humanity: "What a piece of work is a man!"

May I express my heartiest thanks to our honorable supervisors and mayors of this lovely county we have and to the 306 senior citizens that attended the luncheon and the Ben Hur show at the Rafael Theater Wednesday.

Special thanks to the fathers of our city for their warm expression and the hopes for a good future to all the seniors of Marin County. I also want to express my thanks to all those who called on the telephone (from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m.).

Last but not least, thanks to the Independent-Journal for their wonderful publicity it gave this affair. I promise that by the middle of summer I'll give the I-J some more work.

P. S. A Merry Christmas to all.

P. S. S. A Happy New Year, too.

Anyway, Schools Are Out!

Editor, Independent-Journal:

There is no room in the inn;
There is no room in our schools;
Is there any room in our newspapers?

This is a little Christmas verse I wrote, thinking of the children who live in Marin County, below the snow belt. Probably it will have more appeal to parents than to the children.

We can't have any snow,
Not cold enough for snow,
We may not have a fireplace
With a nice big chimney flue,
But somehow Santa always finds a way.

But we can have a tree
With things for you and me,
and lots of light and decorations gay
And little ones will 'rise
With starlight in their eyes,
So early in the morning Christmas Day.

And so the whole day through,
No matter what we do.
Remember while we work or while we play,
That the shepherds watched the sky
While the angels sang on high
For the Baby Jesus, born on Christmas Day.

And let those whom this may offend turn quickly to one of the other sections. There is music for the little song, should any be interested.

Admiration For Chip From A Friend

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Tonight's San Diego Union-Tribune carried word of Chip Day's death. Nostalgia grips me, and deep regret, but mostly admiration.

I haven't heard from Chip since mid-War II, when he was in my home city of South Pasadena. Would you see that his family knows I realize what a fine person they lost?

Chip was working on the Santa Paula Chronicle, not long out of Stanford, when I went to work there. An immature, unsure, shaky girl reporter couldn't have asked for a kinder mentor and friend. Chip was somewhat older brother kind, and growled at me when necessary (often), but he saved me many times from behavior unbecoming.

The fact that a young, vigorous man has cancer doesn't register with a giddy 22-year-old female. It does with a 45-year-old one who has had it, and been pronounced cured. He treated this problem as a nuisance which he would not permit to bother others. Only as I read the news story did it occur to me what a valiant fight he was putting up.

I was astute enough to realize he was one of the world's few gentlemen (from the definition "gentle men") and I rather want his family to know how that even then I appreciated it.

Very sincerely,

A HANDFUL OF SHEPHERDS

A few "nobodies" were singled out by Almighty God on the first Christmas to represent all mankind in paying homage to the new-born Savior—and to be first to announce the "good news" to others.

They were unlettered shepherds, rough-and-ready men, who lived on the fringe of civilization. But the small efforts they made have been an inspiration to millions down through the centuries.

Reflect on the Gospel account of these poor shepherds, as told in chapter two of St. Luke:

They were the first to be told:

"The angel said to them, 'Do not be afraid, for behold, I bring you good news of great joy which shall be to all the people; for today in the town of David a Savior has been born to you, Who is Christ the Lord.'"

They responded immediately:

"So they went with haste, and they found Mary and Joseph, and the Babe lying in the manger."

They didn't keep it to themselves:

In God's sight, no one is a "nobody." Each man has an eternal value for what he is and does.

Only 1.09 Per Cent Negroes In Ex-Confederate Schools

By CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

WASHINGTON — In the tenth year since the Supreme Court's anti-segregation school decision of 1954 little more than 9 per cent of the Negro public school students in Southern and border states are attending elementary and high schools with whites.

The 11 former Confederate states have only 1.06 per cent of the Negro public school enrollment in biracial schools—30,798 Negroes out of a total of 2,901,671.

The six border states and the District of Columbia have 56.5 per cent of the Negro public school enrollment in biracial schools—283,773 Negroes out of 502,254. Almost 100,000 of this group enrolled in biracial schools are in the District of Columbia.

THESE STATISTICS were gathered by the Southern School News, an independent, non-partisan publication in Nashville, Tenn.

The 9.2 per cent of the region's Negro public school students attending schools with whites this year represents an increase of 1.4 per cent over last year.

The Southern Education Reporting Service, which publishes the News, first surveyed the situation in 1960. Its findings were: in 1960, 6 per cent of the region's Negro enrollment were in school with whites; 1961 saw 6.9 per cent; 1962, 7.8 per cent.

ALTHOUGH ONLY 9.2 per cent of the area's Negro enrollment is in schools with whites, 43 per cent of the total Negro enrollment is in districts that have begun desegregation. Of these 1,453,580 Negroes in the desegregated districts, about 22 per cent are actually in desegregated schools.

Only one state in the South remained with none of its Negro students enrolled with whites—Mississippi. Mississippi has 291,971 Negro public school students going to all-Negro schools and 304,226 white public school students going to all-white schools.

Alabama has a token integration of 11 Negro students, out of a total enrollment of 287,414 Negroes, going to school with whites; South Carolina has 10 Negroes, out of 258,955, going to school with whites; Georgia has 177 out of 337,534.

Johnson Pals In Congress Prove Most Accommodating

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON— President Johnson's old congressional pals not only are busily cleaning up the long-stalled legislative calendar for him but also providing a payroll boost for four members of his staff.

They are Walter Jenkins, long-time administrative assistant; George Reedy, press aide; Clifford Carter and Jack Valenti, Texans summoned by Johnson to help him.

Although working in the White House directly for the the new president, the quartet is on the payrolls of the Senate and House Appropriations Committees — at the maximum salary allowed for their staffs of $18,500.

THAT'S SOMEWHAT LESS than the White House pay scale for their jobs.

The unusual backstage arrangement is due to Johnson's retention of the late President Kennedy's staff. As White House funds are budgeted on a quarterly basis, money was not available to pay the four new Johnson assistants. To find a way out of this dilemma, Johnson appealed to his congressional friends who came up with the answer.

They cited President Truman's stratagem in a similar situation. He temporarily put his staff on the payrolls of congressional committees. So Johnson is doing the same until the new year.

SOUNDINGS ARE being taken by President Johnson on moving the time and place of the Democratic national convention scheduled for the last week in August in Atlantic City. So far the reaction of party leaders is mixed.

Neil Stabler, Mich., national committeeman, favors shifting the convention to Detroit in the first week of August. Other Democratic chiefs see no reason to change.

The question will be discussed at a national committee meeting early in the new year.

A CHANGE has been made in one important Democratic event. The date of the third annual gala, it which theatrical and other stars were to perform in honor of President and Mrs. Kennedy, has been moved to March 16.

And instead of being a gala, the occasion will revert to its old $100-a-plate dinner form. President Johnson and other notables will give talks.

President Johnson is asking for headaches if he names ambassador-to-Finland Carl Rowan as White House press secretary.

The Negro one-time Minneapolis newsman is far from popular with Washington correspondents. As No. 2 man in the State Department's press section in the first year of the Kennedy administration, Rowan repeatedly got into hot water with working reporters.

They found him inclined toward churlishness, high-handedness and provocatively aggressive. In the White House, where the pressure is infinitely greater, it's very questionable whether Rowan, whom the State Department "kicked upstairs" to get him out of the way, could stand the heat.

CENTRAL Intelligence Chief John McCone has been asked by President Johnson for a special report on Latin America, now deemed the most critical area in foreign affairs . . . On orders of his physician, the President takes his pulse whenever he is under undue strain. If the pulse is high, Johnson immediately gets in touch with the doctor. This practice explains why he was holding his left wrist when he arrived at the hospital in Dallas following the shooting of President Kennedy. I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRED WYATT

Merry Christmas To Just About Everybody In All Of Marin!

MERRY CHRISTMAS: To all who face a holy season with a feeling of rejuvenation laced by sadness.

To all doing business as usual in the Marin positions they held a year ago and to those who have left, or soon will leave, or have been fired or suspended. . . .

To the directors of Corte Madera Sanitary District, whose lid blew off, and to the employees they fired; to Sausalito for solving its police chief beef; to Mill Valley, echoing from its council-manager uproar.

To Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, now in Castro's post; to Supervisor Peter H. Behr, who helped show Leydecker the ropes; and to all the other supervisors and to County Administrator Alan Bruce.

TO THE VIVID memory of our own Chip Day, who among many other duties edited these columns; and to his family, with whom we join in mourning.

To the Larkspur City Council, including members whom I needled at times perhaps with more determination than compassion; to the Corte Madera Town Council, recently minus the services of Councilman Robert I. LaDow; to LaDow, who plans to resume his post early in the year.

To E. Warren McGuire, soon to enter private practice, and Douglas J. Maloney, soon to succeed him as county counsel; Maloney said, "I like to read Fred's column—but I don't like to be in it. He throws the sharpest darts in the Independent-Journal."

To public relations man Jules Becker, who stresses his help to Ernest N. Kettenhofen in running for Marin Hospital District board last year was non-paid and consisted of mailing out postcards.

TO ALL the school people I have covered, including College of Marin president Stephen E. Epler, always equable; and to Supt. Chester G. Carlisle and crew of teeming Tamalpais Union High School District, sailing full ahead through a storm over whether to unify it or chop it up. . . .

To Supt. Milton S. Cohen of Larkspur School District, cheerfully starting a second year as pilot of an entity with finances flat as stale beer; and to Supt. Howard C. Harmon of Kentfield School District, still in a temporary office he has to vacate.

To old residents who chafe at changes and to newcomers seeking to settle down with satisfaction and pride; to those who oppose high density and high rise apartments but must accept them in some areas if they wish to preserve others for recreation and natural beauty amidst the population explosion, say students of planning.

To all law agencies, especially the California Highway Patrol, which performs a tough job superbly; to Fairfax police, who with elan have about abolished speeding in their pretty town.

TO ALL still searching for an identity in a world still sorting itself out. . . . To all jobless and to those with jobs they're not happiest with and to those who say, "Grant me the wisdom to do efficiently a different job tomorrow if required."

Merry Christmas to all children and to all in whom the childhood spirit still lives; to all who are absent for one reason or another and may they know we who dig in the salt mine are with them in spirit and would wish to share with them all the good reunions and all the good wishes.

ELUSIVE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

A Tiny Nest Brought Its Own Yuletide Lesson

By RON AUTRY

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Ever have a year when it just didn't seem like Christmas?

That's the way it was for our family this Christmas season at first.

Work and the routine of living had crowded in. Gift buying and card mailing were behind schedule.

Besides, Christmas requires children, and one fledgling had married during the year and the other was testing his wings in high school.

SO we had that bah-humbug feeling about Christmas.

We heard the constant blare of loudspeakers with carols everywhere, and they spread more irritation than joy. They seemed to stand for form and not substance, anti-Christmas and not Christmas.

And we grew more disenchanted with the holiday.

Still, there were rituals that needed performing.

One was the purchase of a Christmas tree.

THERE are only two kinds of trees—the ones that turn brown and drop all their needles in two days after you buy them and the ones that inexplicably stay green for weeks.

And you spend hours prudently selecting one from a supermarket, a fly-by-night stand or a Boy Scout.

But as I prepared for the search, a friendly neighbor named Bill Terry invited me to go along with him. A friend had said we could cut a tree from his woods near Stone Mountain.

It was like being invited to a quilting or a husking bee. To me, those stories about people cutting a tree for themselves out in the woods had always seemed to be merely old wives' tales or a half-forgotten custom.

A cold wind was blowing when Terry and I arrived in the woods with his two sons, Tim and Mark.

WE saw passably good trees immediately and wanted to cut. But Tim disappeared. We heard him in the distance.

"Come over this way," he cried into the wind. "I've found a perfect one!"

By the time we arrived, he had moved on ahead, shouting that he had found an even prettier tree.

Then we followed Mark, who also had found a better tree.

And as we walked, the voices of those happy and searching children seemed to be symbols of the spirit of Christmas, hopefully beckoning us through the cold winds of doubt and indifference.

NEXT day my family began to decorate the tree.

It was then that we realized what a truly remarkable tree we had. For we had not been the first to adopt the tree and take it into the family.

Deep inside the branches and clinging close to the trunk was a small and deserted bird's nest, unharmed by time and storms.

Perhaps it was the association with birth, or the association with flown fledglings, but somehow that tiny nest seemed appropriate and significant. We left it untouched.

The California Chamber of Commerce has reported that California's civilian employment of 6.5 million persons during July was an increase of 3 per cent over July, 1962. The rise in employment was 194,000 workers.

Merchants Set Record Yule Sales

Santa Claus is sailing on a sharply upward sales curve this Christmas season, with several Marin department stores reporting all-time highs, an Independent-Journal survey today showed.

"The biggest Christmas season ever," was reported for Macy's in San Rafael by Stephen Leonesio, assistant manager. The store was opened in 1952.

J. C. Penney Co. in Corte Madera reported "the biggest December we ever had" since the store was opened in 1958, with sales "10 to 20 per cent above last year."

The J. C. Penney Co. store in San Rafael reported Christmas sales "better than last year, the best in several years," but could not say whether a record had been set in the local store's 34-year history.

Sales at Montgomery Ward and Co. in Corte Madera are "up after a late start" and were boosted by Sunday opening, said an advertising executive.

"Just terrific" was the report of Mozart Kaufman, owner of Kaufman's Department Store in San Anselmo. He not only reported the store's "greatest Christmas season" but said the percentage of increase, 8 to 10 per cent, was the greatest hike in any of the 12 years he has operated the store.

"Pretty well ahead of last year," was the report of Maurice Carter, manager of Mayer's Ltd. in Mill Valley. "So far it's been a good season."

"Bigger than last year," was the report of owner Walter Zurcher of the San Rafael Toy Shop.

"Terrific! We're way above last year. We've already set a record," reported E. L. Harbert, owner for the past three years of the Toy World in the Corte Madera Center.

Reporting for the retail merchants division of the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, Myron Zwang, co-owner of Sarrae's women's apparel shop, said the store is a barometer of local business and if all other firms have done as well as his, they have far exceeded previous years. He said:

"Last Saturday alone we exceeded the figures for all of December, 1962."

SHIP

with three injured and one body.

Other rescue ships were steaming toward Morocco and the Canary Islands with rescued passengers and crew members.

In London, the Greek Line issued this statement:

"We have received no reports at this stage at all about the fire on board the ship. We cannot comment on isolated incidents, and can only say that the lifeboats were definitely properly equipped and had all been checked during the refit period before the sailing."

At Santa Cruz de Tenerife, in the Canary Islands, the Belgian rescue vessel Charlesville docked with 35 survivors, including the Lakonia's Greek captain, Mateu Zarsbeis, 56. The others were 28 crewmen and six passengers.

In a brief talk with newsmen, Zarsbeis said the bodies of six passengers were dropped into the sea while en route to the Canaries.

Before hearing of the passengers' complaints, John Goulandris, managing director of the Greek Line, had told newsmen the ship was not too old for cruise service. He promised "the fullest inquiry" and said: "We have always honored our moral and legal obligations."

Felony Charge Is Reduced

A felony charge of sex perversion against Michael Joseph O'Donnell of Sausalito was changed today in Marin Municipal Court to a misdemeanor charge of lewd and lascivious conduct.

O'Donnell, 31, was arrested Nov. 7, for allegedly forcing a 17-year-old Fairfax boy into a perverted sex act.

O'Donnell pleaded guilty to the lesser charge, and Judge Leonard A. Thomas set Jan. 21 at 3 p.m. for a hearing on a probation report.

THE DOGS' BEST FRIEND

School Newspaper Hub Bub Causes Hub Bub In Novato

On account of that, the Novato Unified School District board last night heard a demand from John O. Trodden, a teacher of Hill and faculty adviser of its student newspaper, the Hub Bub, for a public apology from school board and superintendent.

Trustees and Supt. James G. Bunker said there was nothing for which to apologize. It was simply a matter of who's boss, said Bunker.

Trodden, he told the board, had been instructed to eliminate unsuitable "news items" from a gossip column of the Hub Bub, and criticisms of district policies from its editorials. After several warnings, he had been told he must either do so or the school paper would be stopped.

The teacher contended this amounted to a charge of "unprofessional and unethical conduct," and declared: "As I have been damaged both ethically and professionally and do not wish to gain financially at the bar of justice, I will accept a public apology from the board members involved and a separate one from the superintendent to be made a part of the official board minutes."

without discussion, the House adopted resolutions for adjourning the present session Monday and beginning the second session Jan. 7. These now go to the Senate.

A few minutes earlier, House and Senate representatives went through the formality of notifying Johnson that Congress was preparing to adjourn unless he had further matters to bring before it. This was done by telephone, and the House spokesmen—the two party leaders, Rep. Carl Albert (D-Okla.), and Rep. Charles A. Hallack (R-Ind.)—reported the president had no further communications.

The vote was taken in the first Christmas Eve business session in modern congressional history—a session that convened at 7 a.m.

First Prize Won For Decorations

John C. Park of 230 Calle De La Selva was named first prize winner in the Loma Verde Home Owners Assn. Christmas home decorating contest last night. A $25 prize will be awarded parks for his home decorations in a religious theme, and his name will be inscribed on a plaque.

William H. Vandergriff of 242 Alameda De La Loma received a $15 second prize, and Lesile E. Doran of 467 Calle De La Mesa, a $10 third prize.

Exam Ordered After Robbery

Kevin F. O'Boyle, 18-year-old San Francisco City College student, was ordered to a 90-day psychiatric examination yesterday in Marin Superior Court for the hitch-hiking robbery of a San Anselmo man.

O'Boyle, and a 17-year-old friend, also from San Francisco were arrested last September for trying to force John Emery McGowan at knife point to drive them to the Russian River area after he picked them up in San Francisco. The youths also stole a coat and sweater from McGowan.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori said the examination, at the California Medical Facility, Vacaville, would be essential for O'Boyle's "own good—to find out what makes him tick."

Body Is Sighted Off Drakes Beach

The cabin cruiser Whirlaway sighted a body in a lifejacket floating in the Pacific four miles south of Drakes Beach today at 10:10 a.m. and made an unsuccessful attempt to recover it, the cruiser radioed the Coast Guard.

The name "Paul Hoock Denuba" was stenciled on the lifejacket, and the body wore a red and blue stocking cap and maroon jacket, the Coast Guard reported to the Marin sheriff's office.

The commission also approved the tentative map of Holiday Hills unit 2, of 19 lots on six acres at the end of Stone Drive.

'85 Scotches' Lead Woman To Jail Cell

A Forest Knolls woman, who kept insisting to Corte Madera police that she had just downed 85 Scotches and 27 beers, last night tore apart the lawn and front door of the Corte Madera Police Station.

As a result, Mrs. Carol Dean Agnost, 33, was jailed for resisting arrest, disturbing the peace, malicious mischief, drunkenness, and two traffic citations.

It all started, said police, when Mrs. Agnost parked in front of the firehouse driveway at 6:45 p.m.

Police Inspector Harold N. Hockett told her to move her car. Mrs. Agnost obliged by parking it on the police station lawn.

Then, related police, she marched into the station, demanded to see a report of her arrest of Dec. 8 on a peace disturbance charge, and got into a row with Inspector Hockett. Leaving, she drove erratically up the street. She was stopped at Tamalpais Drive and Wilson Avenue by Hockett and Officer Charles Rester and returned to the station.

Mrs. Agnost then hurled a metal hole puncher through a front door window, the officers alleged. At the county jail, she refused to sign a property receipt.

Throughout it all, police said, Mrs. Agnost kept insisting that it be inserted in the record that she had consumed 85 Scotch highballs and 27 beers.

Police obliged.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRED WYATT

Merry Christmas To Just About Everybody In All Of Marin!

MERRY CHRISTMAS: To all who face a holy season with a feeling of rejuvenation laced by sadness.

To all doing business as usual in the Marin positions they held a year ago and to those who have left, or soon will leave, or have been fired or suspended. . . .

To the directors of Corte Madera Sanitary District, whose lid blew off, and to the employees they fired; to Sausalito for solving its police chief beef; to Mill Valley, echoing from its council-manager uproar.

To Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, now in Castro's post; to Supervisor Peter H. Behr, who helped show Leydecker the ropes; and to all the other supervisors and to County Administrator Alan Bruce.

TO THE VIVID memory of our own Chip Day, who among many other duties edited these columns; and to his family, with whom we join in mourning.

To the Larkspur City Council, including members whom I needled at times perhaps with more determination than compassion; to the Corte Madera Town Council, recently minus the services of Councilman Robert I. LaDow; to LaDow, who plans to resume his post early in the year.

To E. Warren McGuire, soon to enter private practice, and Douglas J. Maloney, soon to succeed him as county counsel; Maloney said, "I like to read Fred's column—but I don't like to be in it. He throws the sharpest darts in the Independent-Journal."

To public relations man Jules Becker, who stresses his help to Ernest N. Kettenhofen in running for Marin Hospital District board last year was non-paid and consisted of mailing out postcards.

TO ALL the school people I have covered, including College of Marin president Stephen E. Epler, always equable; and to Supt. Chester G. Carlisle and crew of teeming Tamalpais Union High School District, sailing full ahead through a storm over whether to unify it or chop it up. . . .

To Supt. Milton S. Cohen of Larkspur School District, cheerfully starting a second year as pilot of an entity with finances flat as stale beer; and to Supt. Howard C. Harmon of Kentfield School District, still in a temporary office he has to vacate.

To old residents who chafe at changes and to newcomers seeking to settle down with satisfaction and pride; to those who oppose high density and high rise apartments but must accept them in some areas if they wish to preserve others for recreation and natural beauty amidst the population explosion, say students of planning.

To all law agencies, especially the California Highway Patrol, which performs a tough job superbly; to Fairfax police, who with elan have about abolished speeding in their pretty town.

TO ALL still searching for an identity in a world still sorting itself out. . . . To all jobless and to those with jobs they're not happiest with and to those who say, "Grant me the wisdom to do efficiently a different job tomorrow if required."

Merry Christmas to all children and to all in whom the childhood spirit still lives; to all who are absent for one reason or another and may they know we who dig in the salt mine are with them in spirit and would wish to share with them all the good reunions and all the good wishes.

ELUSIVE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

A Tiny Nest Brought Its Own Yuletide Lesson

By RON AUTRY

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Ever have a year when it just didn't seem like Christmas?

That's the way it was for our family this Christmas season at first.

Work and the routine of living had crowded in. Gift buying and card mailing were behind schedule.

Besides, Christmas requires children, and one fledgling had married during the year and the other was testing his wings in high school.

SO we had that bah-humbug feeling about Christmas.

We heard the constant blare of loudspeakers with carols everywhere, and they spread more irritation than joy. They seemed to stand for form and not substance, anti-Christmas and not Christmas.

And we grew more disenchanted with the holiday.

Still, there were rituals that needed performing.

One was the purchase of a Christmas tree.

THERE are only two kinds of trees—the ones that turn brown and drop all their needles in two days after you buy them and the ones that inexplicably stay green for weeks.

And you spend hours prudently selecting one from a supermarket, a fly-by-night stand or a Boy Scout.

But as I prepared for the search, a friendly neighbor named Bill Terry invited me to go along with him. A friend had said we could cut a tree from his woods near Stone Mountain.

It was like being invited to a quilting or a husking bee. To me, those stories about people cutting a tree for themselves out in the woods had always seemed to be merely old wives' tales or a half-forgotten custom.

A cold wind was blowing when Terry and I arrived in the woods with his two sons, Tim and Mark.

WE saw passably good trees immediately and wanted to cut. But Tim disappeared. We heard him in the distance.

"Come over this way," he cried into the wind. "I've found a perfect one!"

By the time we arrived, he had moved on ahead, shouting that he had found an even prettier tree.

Then we followed Mark, who also had found a better tree.

And as we walked, the voices of those happy and searching children seemed to be symbols of the spirit of Christmas, hopefully beckoning us through the cold winds of doubt and indifference.

NEXT day my family began to decorate the tree.

It was then that we realized what a truly remarkable tree we had. For we had not been the first to adopt the tree and take it into the family.

Deep inside the branches and clinging close to the trunk was a small and deserted bird's nest, unharmed by time and storms.

Perhaps it was the association with birth, or the association with flown fledglings, but somehow that tiny nest seemed appropriate and significant. We left it untouched.

The California Chamber of Commerce has reported that California's civilian employment of 6.5 million persons during July was an increase of 3 per cent over July, 1962. The rise in employment was 194,000 workers.

Merchants Set Record Yule Sales

Santa Claus is sailing on a sharply upward sales curve this Christmas season, with several Marin department stores reporting all-time highs, an Independent-Journal survey today showed.

"The biggest Christmas season ever," was reported for Macy's in San Rafael by Stephen Leonesio, assistant manager. The store was opened in 1952.

J. C. Penney Co. in Corte Madera reported "the biggest December we ever had" since the store was opened in 1958, with sales "10 to 20 per cent above last year."

The J. C. Penney Co. store in San Rafael reported Christmas sales "better than last year, the best in several years," but could not say whether a record had been set in the local store's 34-year history.

Sales at Montgomery Ward and Co. in Corte Madera are "up after a late start" and were boosted by Sunday opening, said an advertising executive.

"Just terrific" was the report of Mozart Kaufman, owner of Kaufman's Department Store in San Anselmo. He not only reported the store's "greatest Christmas season" but said the percentage of increase, 8 to 10 per cent, was the greatest hike in any of the 12 years he has operated the store.

"Pretty well ahead of last year," was the report of Maurice Carter, manager of Mayer's Ltd. in Mill Valley. "So far it's been a good season."

"Bigger than last year," was the report of owner Walter Zurcher of the San Rafael Toy Shop.

"Terrific! We're way above last year. We've already set a record," reported E. L. Harbert, owner for the past three years of the Toy World in the Corte Madera Center.

Reporting for the retail merchants division of the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, Myron Zwang, co-owner of Sarrae's women's apparel shop, said the store is a barometer of local business and if all other firms have done as well as his, they have far exceeded previous years. He said:

"Last Saturday alone we exceeded the figures for all of December, 1962."

THE DOGS' BEST FRIEND

Gavin Pelling of Novato, president of the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club, does not need a beard to let the puppies at the Marin County Humane Society know that he is their Santa Claus. The club voted to purchase the goodies for the dogs at the animal shelter. These puppies are waiting for adoption.

without discussion, the House adopted resolutions for adjourning the present session Monday and beginning the second session Jan. 7. These now go to the Senate.

A few minutes earlier, House and Senate representatives went through the formality of notifying Johnson that Congress was preparing to adjourn unless he had further matters to bring before it. This was done by telephone, and the House spokesmen—the two party leaders, Rep. Carl Albert (D-Okla.), and Rep. Charles A. Hallack (R-Ind.)—reported the president had no further communications.

The vote was taken in the first Christmas Eve business session in modern congressional history—a session that convened at 7 a.m.

with three injured and one body.

Other rescue ships were steaming toward Morocco and the Canary Islands with rescued passengers and crew members.

In London, the Greek Line issued this statement:

"We have received no reports at this stage at all about the fire on board the ship. We cannot comment on isolated incidents, and can only say that the lifeboats were definitely properly equipped and had all been checked during the refit period before the sailing."

At Santa Cruz de Tenerife, in the Canary Islands, the Belgian rescue vessel Charlesville docked with 35 survivors, including the Lakonia's Greek captain, Mateu Zarsbeis, 56. The others were 28 crewmen and six passengers.

In a brief talk with newsmen, Zarsbeis said the bodies of six passengers were dropped into the sea while en route to the Canaries.

Before hearing of the passengers' complaints, John Goulandris, managing director of the Greek Line, had told newsmen the ship was not too old for cruise service. He promised "the fullest inquiry" and said: "We have always honored our moral and legal obligations."

Felony Charge Is Reduced

A felony charge of sex perversion against Michael Joseph O'Donnell of Sausalito was changed today in Marin Municipal Court to a misdemeanor charge of lewd and lascivious conduct.

O'Donnell, 31, was arrested Nov. 7, for allegedly forcing a 17-year-old Fairfax boy into a perverted sex act.

O'Donnell pleaded guilty to the lesser charge, and Judge Leonard A. Thomas set Jan. 21 at 3 p.m. for a hearing on a probation report.

School Newspaper Hub Bub Causes Hub Bub In Novato

On account of that, the Novato Unified School District board last night heard a demand from John O. Trodden, a teacher of Hill and faculty adviser of its student newspaper, the Hub Bub, for a public apology from school board and superintendent.

Trustees and Supt. James G. Bunker said there was nothing for which to apologize. It was simply a matter of who's boss, said Bunker.

Trodden, he told the board, had been instructed to eliminate unsuitable "news items" from a gossip column of the Hub Bub, and criticisms of district policies from its editorials. After several warnings, he had been told he must either do so or the school paper would be stopped.

The teacher contended this amounted to a charge of "unprofessional and unethical conduct," and declared: "As I have been damaged both ethically and professionally and do not wish to gain financially at the bar of justice, I will accept a public apology from the board members involved and a separate one from the superintendent to be made a part of the official board minutes."

Trustees decided Trodden had not been damaged.

Exam Ordered After Robbery

Kevin F. O'Boyle, 18-year-old San Francisco City College student, was ordered to a 90-day psychiatric examination yesterday in Marin Superior Court for the hitch-hiking robbery of a San Anselmo man.

Bagpiper Ira Oliver Harrison Jr. pleaded innocent today in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Harrison, dressed in conventional clothes rather than his kilts and plaids, appeared with his attorney, William O. Weissich of San Rafael, and asked for a jury trial of the charge that he attacked a San Francisco advertising man, using a jeweled dirk. He was arrested Dec. 14 at the Pipers, a bar in Tiburon.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas set Dec. 30 at 9:30 a.m. for a preliminary hearing. Harrison, of San Francisco, is free on $1,100 bail.

As Coast Firms Slash Interest East Hikes Rates

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Interest rate juggling between section of the nation and between competing saving institutions is bolstering the belief of those who look for general firming of interest after the traditional January lull.

Yields on savings are being raised now to 4.25 per cent or higher by some New York savings banks and some savings and loan associations in Florida. But in California, where the rates are still highest, some savings and loan groups say they'll cut back Jan. 1 from 5 per cent to 4.85 per cent. Most commercial banks are held by federal regulations to 4 per cent.

In New York much of the competition for savings is between different types of institutions. It Florida, and to some extent in New York, the competition is with California where the higher yields have been attracting funds from across the nation—funds which Florida would like to use in its own building program.

Predictions of generally rising interest rates when the new year is well under way are coming from at least two sources. Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board has told Congress that if the federal tax cut is passed and stimulates the economy as hoped for, increased business borrowing will push interest rates up.

The U. S. Savings and Loan League sees a tightening next year in the supply of funds available for mortgage loans. Since it also predicts continued demand for mortgage money, the league looks for the trend toward higher mortgage rates in some parts of the nation, which started late this year, to continue for several more months.

January could see a lull in any movement toward tighter money and higher costs. Business borrows in November and December to finance increased production and to carry larger inventories. In January these loans are normally repaid. The return flow of money into the market makes credit easier and reduces pressure on interest rates.

But if business activity, and construction demand, continues high in coming months, the demand for more funds could tighten the market..

By the same token, if the economy turns down unexpectedly, the Federal Reserve's job would be to ease credit as a possible stimulant, rather than to keep it moderately tight to fend off a runaway boom.

The board is also interested in keeping short-term rates fairly high to discourage an outflow to foreign money markets that would increase any threat to U. S. gold reserves.

Volume Total Tops Record Set In 1929; Trading Quiet

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed mixed today as trading quieted. In midsession the 1963 volume total topped the previous annual record set in 1929.

Stock prices moved higher in early trading but trading slowed to a walk later on as many Wall Streeters got an early start on their Christmas Eve celebration.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.1 million shares compared with 4.56 million yesterday.

The advanced by stocks were attributed by brokers to a lightening-up of tax-less selling and profit-taking which has depressed prices for the past few sessions.

Gains exceeding a point were made by General Motors, Radio Corp., Merck, Anaconda, Kennecott, General Electric and IBM.

Pan American World Airways advanced 2 or better, as did Polaroid and Control Data.

Chrysler dipped more than a point. Corning Glass lost more than 3. Minneapolis-Honeywell added 5.

Prices moved irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was moderately active.

OAKLAND (UPI) — The First National Bank of Oakland announced yesterday that William F. Knowland, editor and assistant publisher of the Oakland Tribune, had been elected a director of the new bank.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

A 600-Pound Steer Helped Supply Monster Linscott Co. Yule Party

Marin County is like any big city when it comes to office and business Christmas parties. They go on up to the last hour on Dec. 24—and continue in the final days preceding New Year's.

Probably the prize stag holiday party put on by a Marin firm each year is that of Linscott Co., in one of its buildings at the old San Rafael Airport on Belvedere Street. Each December it is more elaborate than before and seems to host a larger crowd. Heavy construction men knock elbows with white-collared executives and office workers throughout a luncheon feast and stage show that would do credit to a night club—but the affair is filled with good natured informality (as though it all hadn't been carefully prepared to the last detail).

This year's menu (last week) was taken from a 600-pound barbecued steer that roasted for untold hours. It took a shovel lift to move it into the airplane hanger, a torch to burn it loose from its moorings on a three-inch diameter spit-and a chair saw to cut it into sections.

McGuinness

With any kind of wet weather, parking is a problem. Unless you're an early arrival, your car is likely to be separated from the scene of activity by several hundred yards of mud, inches deep. But who's picky about such details?

DEALER DIVISION of Servisoft of California, Inc. has been purchased by Water Treatment Corp. of Rockford, Ill. It will continue to operate under the same name, serving the 11 western states.

Servisoft of Marin franchise has been held almost three years by Richard W. Williams. After a quick trip to new western division headquarters in Los Angeles last week, Williams returned to San Rafael convinced that the new arrangement is much more satisfactory and will facilitate the supply of materials for dealers.

Newington Scott

THREE MARIN COUNTY residents have been promoted to new posts in the Wells Fargo Bank.

Elmer J. Newington of Santa Venetia and Earl D. Scott of Mill Valley have been made accounting officers in the comptroller's department at the San Francisco head office.

Robert J. McGuinness of Tiburon has been advanced to credit officer at the Market-Montgomery branch in San Francisco.

I'VE JUST NOTICED that the used furniture store of Edward and Ethel Dvorak at 1611 Fourth Street, San Rafael is now carrying several makes of used electronic organs.

ROBERT A. DAVIES of Belvedere was one of three San Francisco life insurance underwriters who have membership on the 1964 Million Dollar Round Table which will have its annual meeting next June in Hollywood, Fla. He is an agent of New York Life Insurance Co.

American families have bought and own more life insurance this year than ever before in history. New purchases were 11 per cent higher than in 1962, mostly reflected in larger policies.

JAMES SCRIPTURE of San Rafael was among 28 Oldsmobile dealers throughout the country who attended Oldsmobile's National Dealers Conference last week in Lansing, Mich. He represented other dealers in this zone.

HEADS CALCHEM PLANT —R. J. King, 124 Elena Circle, San Rafael has been appointed plant manager for Ortho Division, California Chemical Co., Richmond. He was formerly administrative assistant to the manager of manufacturing. King has ben with the Standard Oil Co. organization for 18 years.

School Fund Arguments Due Friday

Friday will be the last day for submitting arguments for or against the two financial measures on the Feb. 18 ballot in San Rafael Elementary School District, Marin County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis reminded voters today.

He said one argument for the ballot notice has been received from the school district. This statement, presumably for the proposal to issue $3,300,000 worth of bonds for general school construction and another $670,000 for construction of multi - purpose rooms, will take precedence in arguments for the issue.

Hollis said his office may receive arguments against the bonds, either from "bona fide associations of citizens" or from individual voters. The arguments must be in writing and no more than 300 words long.

Deadline for arguments for the March 3 bond and state apportionment election to be held in the San Jose School District is Jan. 10, Hollis announced.

The San Jose District is asking approval of a $275,000 bond issue plus a $1,184,000 state apportionment.

The bonds in both districts require approval by two-thirds of those voting.

Hub Firm Taking Over Tire Store In San Rafael

The Goodyear Service Store at 1531 Fourth Street, San Rafael, will close at the end of the business day today.

In its place on Jan. 2 a new business, Cain's Goodyear, will open.

Patrick M. McAlonan, owner of Cain's Tire in San Anselmo, said he is taking over the premises and will sell Goodyear tires exclusively at both establishments. The San Rafael branch will also handle retreads and batteries and do front-end and brake work, McAlonan said, but he does not at this time plan on selling appliances or other products that the Goodyear store handled.

Denny Jones, manager of the Goodyear Store, said he is expecting to be transferred to another branch. In explaining why Goodyear is closing out, Jones noted that the firm prefers to have independent dealers wherever possible, rather than operate its own stores.

Novato School Bus Bids Will Be Opened

Bids on a new school bus for Novato Unified School District will be opened by district trustees at their Jan. 13 board meeting.

The board called for the bids at a short meeting last night. It also approved a change in painting subcontractor at West Novato School, from Permaglaze Co. of San Rafael to Nevis Decorating Co. of San Jose, requested by Fostmeier Construction Co. of Petaluma, general contractor on the school.

$1,692,000 School Bond Issue Bought

SAN FRANCISCO—A Bank of America underwriting syndicate which included Wells Fargo Bank, has purchased the $1,692,000 bond issue of the Santa Cruz School District, Santa Cruz County.

The bank paid a premium of $299 for a combination of 5, 4½, 3, 3.10, 3.20, 3¼, 3.30 and 1/10th of 1 per cent bonds. Net interest cost to the district was 3.25 per cent.

JOHNSON HELD OFF RELEASE ON DEATH

Aide Told To Delay Announcement; Kennedy Successor Feared Conspiracy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House press aide says President Lyndon B. Johnson quickly saw in President John F. Kennedy's assassination a possible world-wide conspiracy against himself and others.

Malcolm Kilduff, assistant White House press secretary, said that with this grim possibility in mind, Johnson requested that Kilduff withhold briefly the announcement of Kennedy's death while Johnson returned to the presidential plane at the Dallas, Tex., airport.

In a radio interview taped for broadcast on stations of the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co., Kilduff told of the tense minutes after Kennedy's death in Parkland Hospital at Dallas on Nov. 22.

Kennedy died about 1 p.m. and Kilduff said that at about 1:10 or 1:15 he told Kenneth O'Donnell, White House appointments secretary, that the news of the death had not been released and suggested that this be done. Kilduff reported that O'Donnell said, "Go ahead. But you better check with Mr. Johnson."

Kilduff's account of what followed:

"Well, I walked through the hall, through the emergency room, and in the small cubicle where President Johnson was sitting with Mrs. Johnson and with Rufus Youngblood, the Secret Service agent who had been with him, and I walked up to him, and for the first time, when I looked at him, very frankly I didn't know what to call him, and I just blurted out, 'Mr. President,' and he turned around, and I will never forget the look on his face, because I am not sure but I am fairly sure that this was the first time he had been called Mr. President.

"I said, 'I have to announce the death of President Kennedy. Is it all right with you?' And he reacted immediately. He said, 'No, Mac, I think we had better wait for a few minutes.' He said, 'I think I had better get out of here and get back to the plane before you announce it.' He said, 'We don't know whether this is a world-wide conspiracy, whether they are after me as well as they were after President Kennedy, or whether they are after Speaker McCormack, or Sen. Hayden. We just don't know.' "

An interviewing reporter suggested at this point that Johnson's reaction showed "terrific resence of mind."

"It did. It was fantastic. As I said, his reaction was immediate on that. And he said, 'No, I think we better wait a minute. Are they prepared to get me out of here?'

"I went back and talked to one of the agents, in fact it was Roy Kellerman, the agent in charge for this trip, and who was riding in the right front seat of President Kennedy's car when he was shot, and he gathered a few agents together. By this time it is about 20 after. I went back and talked to President Johnson, and I said, 'Well, I am going to make the announcement as soon as you leave.'

"So we got the agents together, we got the police together, they sent an agent outside to get the car lined up to take him back. We got the motorcycle escort lined up to get him back to the airport. Then the two of us, President Johnson and myself, walked out of the emergency entrance together, and everyone was screaming at me, 'What can you tell us? What can you tell us?'

"It was a scene of absolute confusion. President Johnson had gotten into a car and left when, as you may recall, I ran up the grass slope, up to the other entrance of the hospital, into the classroom. But the reason for the delay was purely a reason of security.

"You may recall when I had to make the announcement I refused to discuss the whereabouts or destination of President Johnson. Again, this was based on considerations of security.

"When we got back on the plane all the window shades were drawn so that no one could see in the plane from outside."

Savings, Loan Stock Low Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Many California saving and loan stocks are back near their 1962-63 lows but an industry analyst says it's because of adverse publicity, not higher interest rates on bank savings.

The cycle began nearly two years ago when major New York banks and others raised interest rates to 4 per cent for certain long-term deposits.

Savings and loan groups in California responded with interest hikes that finally reached 4.85 per cent. The competitive raise eventually generated so much business that from October 1962 to April 1963, S and L stocks jumped an average of 50 per cent, the analyst said.

Then this fall a few associations decided to try a 5 per cent interest rate. At the same time, the federal government was talking about tighter regulations for savings and loan firms.

The government spokesman warned that risky loans might have an adverse effect on savings and loan financial structure.

As a result, the 50 per cent gains have been mostly lost, said the analyst.

Given peace and quiet after the tax-selling season, he concluded, they could start right back up.

Stock Dividend

SAN FRANCISCO—Bart Lytton, president and chairman, announced directors of Lytton Financial Corp. have voted a 25 per cent year end stock dividend plus a 50 per cent cash return of surplus distribution to stockholders of record Dec. 31, 1962, payable Jan 24, 1964.

A TRIBUTE TO CHRISTMAS DAY

Whether you're young, or merely young in heart, the coming of Christmas brings a suspense and excitement not equalled by any other holiday.

Tomorrow morning each loved one will happily open the gifts, result of secret family conferences and planning, stimulated by the music, lights, and early nightfall of the season.

Yet Christmas means more than exchanging presents. It expresses the gift of love in the hearts of men, and the hope of Peace on Earth. Now is the time of rejoicing in every community in Marin . . . ties of family and friendship are refreshed. May the spirit of joy and the uplifting of your heart remain with you throughout the year.

Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board has told Congress that if the federal tax cut is passed and stimulates the economy as hoped for, increased business borrowing will push interest rates up.

The U. S. Savings and Loan League sees a tightening next year in the supply of funds available for mortgage loans. Since it also predicts continued demand for mortgage money, the league looks for the trend toward higher mortgage rates in some parts of the nation, which started late this year, to continue for several more months.

January could see a lull in any movement toward tighter money and higher costs. Business borrows in November and December to finance increased production and to carry larger inventories. In January these loans are normally repaid. The return flow of money into the market makes credit easier and reduces pressure on interest rates.

But if business activity, and construction demand, continues high in coming months, the demand for more funds could tighten the market..

By the same token, if the economy turns down unexpectedly, the Federal Reserve's job would be to ease credit as a possible stimulant, rather than to keep it moderately tight to fend off a runaway boom.

The board is also interested in keeping short-term rates fairly high to discourage an outflow to foreign money markets that would increase any threat to U. S. gold reserves.

Volume Total Tops Record Set In 1929; Trading Quiet

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed mixed today as trading quieted. In midsession the 1963 volume total topped the previous annual record set in 1929.

Stock prices moved higher in early trading but trading slowed to a walk later on as many Wall Streeters got an early start on their Christmas Eve celebration.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.1 million shares compared with 4.56 million yesterday.

The advanced by stocks were attributed by brokers to a lightening-up of tax-less selling and profit-taking which has depressed prices for the past few sessions.

Gains exceeding a point were made by General Motors, Radio Corp., Merck, Anaconda, Kennecott, General Electric and IBM.

Pan American World Airways advanced 2 or better, as did Polaroid and Control Data.

Chrysler dipped more than a point. Corning Glass lost more than 3. Minneapolis-Honeywell added 5.

Prices moved irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was moderately active.

OAKLAND (UPI) — The First National Bank of Oakland announced yesterday that William F. Knowland, editor and assistant publisher of the Oakland Tribune, had been elected a director of the new bank.

Marin County is like any big city when it comes to office and business Christmas parties. They go on up to the last hour on Dec. 24—and continue in the final days preceding New Year's.

Probably the prize stag holiday party put on by a Marin firm each year is that of Linscott Co., in one of its buildings at the old San Rafael Airport on Belvedere Street. Each December it is more elaborate than before and seems to host a larger crowd. Heavy construction men knock elbows with white-collared executives and office workers throughout a luncheon feast and stage show that would do credit to a night club—but the affair is filled with good natured informality (as though it all hadn't been carefully prepared to the last detail).

This year's menu (last week) was taken from a 600-pound barbecued steer that roasted for untold hours. It took a shovel lift to move it into the airplane hanger, a torch to burn it loose from its moorings on a three-inch diameter spit-and a chair saw to cut it into sections.

With any kind of wet weather, parking is a problem. Unless you're an early arrival, your car is likely to be separated from the scene of activity by several hundred yards of mud, inches deep. But who's picky about such details?

DEALER DIVISION of Servisoft of California, Inc. has been purchased by Water Treatment Corp. of Rockford, Ill. It will continue to operate under the same name, serving the 11 western states.

Servisoft of Marin franchise has been held almost three years by Richard W. Williams. After a quick trip to new western division headquarters in Los Angeles last week, Williams returned to San Rafael convinced that the new arrangement is much more satisfactory and will facilitate the supply of materials for dealers.

Newington Scott

THREE MARIN COUNTY residents have been promoted to new posts in the Wells Fargo Bank.

Elmer J. Newington of Santa Venetia and Earl D. Scott of Mill Valley have been made accounting officers in the comptroller's department at the San Francisco head office.

Robert J. McGuinness of Tiburon has been advanced to credit officer at the Market-Montgomery branch in San Francisco.

I'VE JUST NOTICED that the used furniture store of Edward and Ethel Dvorak at 1611 Fourth Street, San Rafael is now carrying several makes of used electronic organs.

ROBERT A. DAVIES of Belvedere was one of three San Francisco life insurance underwriters who have membership on the 1964 Million Dollar Round Table which will have its annual meeting next June in Hollywood, Fla. He is an agent of New York Life Insurance Co.

American families have bought and own more life insurance this year than ever before in history. New purchases were 11 per cent higher than in 1962, mostly reflected in larger policies.

JAMES SCRIPTURE of San Rafael was among 28 Oldsmobile dealers throughout the country who attended Oldsmobile's National Dealers Conference last week in Lansing, Mich. He represented other dealers in this zone.

Novato School Bus Bids Will Be Opened

Bids on a new school bus for Novato Unified School District will be opened by district trustees at their Jan. 13 board meeting.

The board called for the bids at a short meeting last night. It also approved a change in painting subcontractor at West Novato School, from Permaglaze Co. of San Rafael to Nevis Decorating Co. of San Jose, requested by Fostmeier Construction Co. of Petaluma, general contractor on the school.

School Fund Arguments Due Friday

Friday will be the last day for submitting arguments for or against the two financial measures on the Feb. 18 ballot in San Rafael Elementary School District, Marin County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis reminded voters today.

He said one argument for the ballot notice has been received from the school district. This statement, presumably for the proposal to issue $3,300,000 worth of bonds for general school construction and another $670,000 for construction of multi - purpose rooms, will take precedence in arguments for the issue.

Hollis said his office may receive arguments against the bonds, either from "bona fide associations of citizens" or from individual voters. The arguments must be in writing and no more than 300 words long.

Deadline for arguments for the March 3 bond and state apportionment election to be held in the San Jose School District is Jan. 10, Hollis announced.

The San Jose District is asking approval of a $275,000 bond issue plus a $1,184,000 state apportionment.

The bonds in both districts require approval by two-thirds of those voting.

Hub Firm Taking Over Tire Store In San Rafael

The Goodyear Service Store at 1531 Fourth St., San Rafael, will close at the end of the business day today.

In its place on Jan. 2 a new business, Cain's Goodyear, will open.

Patrick M. McAlonan, owner of Cain's Tire in San Anselmo, said he is taking over the premises and will sell Goodyear tires exclusively at both establishments. The San Rafael branch will also handle retreads and batteries and do front-end and brake work, McAlonan said, but he does not at this time plan on selling appliances or other products that the Goodyear store handled.

Denny Jones, manager of the Goodyear Store, said he is expecting to be transferred to another branch. In explaining why Goodyear is closing out, Jones noted that the firm prefers to have independent dealers wherever possible, rather than operate its own stores.

$1,692,000 School Bond Issue Bought

SAN FRANCISCO—A Bank of America underwriting syndicate which included Wells Fargo Bank, has purchased the $1,692,000 bond issue of the Santa Cruz School District, Santa Cruz County.

The bank paid a premium of $299 for a combination of 5, 4½, 3, 3.10, 3.20, 3¼, 3.30 and 1/10th of 1 per cent bonds. Net interest cost to the district was 3.25 per cent.

JOHNSON HELD OFF RELEASE ON DEATH

Aide Told To Delay Announcement; Kennedy Successor Feared Conspiracy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House press aide says President Lyndon B. Johnson quickly saw in President John F. Kennedy's assassination a possible world - wide conspiracy against himself and others.

Malcolm Kilduff, assistant White House press secretary, said that with this grim possibility in mind, Johnson requested that Kilduff withhold briefly the announcement of Kennedy's death while Johnson returned to the presidential plane at the Dallas, Tex., airport.

In a radio interview taped for broadcast on stations of the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co., Kilduff told of the tense minutes after Kennedy's death in Parkland Hospital at Dallas on Nov. 22.

Kennedy died about 1 p.m. and Kilduff said that at about 1:10 or 1:15 he told Kenneth O'Donnell, White House appointments secretary, that the news of the death had not been released and suggested that this be done. Kilduff reported that O'Donnell said, "Go ahead. But you better check with Mr. Johnson."

Kilduff's account of what followed:

"Well, I walked through the hall, through the emergency room, and in the small cubicle where President Johnson was sitting with Mrs. Johnson and with Rufus Youngblood, the Secret Service agent who had been with him, and I walked up to him, and for the first time, when I looked at him, very frankly I didn't know what to call him, and I just blurted out, 'Mr. President,' and he turned around, and I will never forget the look on his face, because I am not sure but I am fairly sure that this was the first time he had been called Mr. President.

"I said, 'I have to announce the death of President Kennedy. Is it all right with you?' And he reacted immediately. He said, 'No, Mac, I think we had better wait for a few minutes.' He said, 'I think I had better get out of here and get back to the plane before you announce it.' He said, 'We don't know whether this is a world-wide conspiracy, whether they are after me as well as they were after President Kennedy, or whether they are after Speaker McCormack, or Sen. Hayden. We just don't know.'"

An interviewing reporter suggested at this point that Johnson's reaction showed "terrific resence of mind."

"It did. It was fantastic. As I said, his reaction was immediate on that. And he said, 'No, I think we better wait a minute. Are they prepared to get me out of here?'

"I went back and talked to one of the agents, in fact it was Roy Kellerman, the agent in charge for this trip, and who was riding in the right front seat of President Kennedy's car when he was shot, and he gathered a few agents together. By this time it is about 20 after. I went back and talked to President Johnson, and I said, 'Well, I am going to make the announcement as soon as you leave.'

"So we got the agents together, we got the police together, they sent an agent outside to get the car lined up to take him back. We got the motorcycle escort lined up to get him back to the airport. Then the two of us, President Johnson and myself, walked out of the emergency entrance together, and everyone was screaming at me, 'What can you tell us? What can you tell us?'

"It was a scene of absolute confusion. President Johnson had gotten into a car and left when, as you may recall, I ran up the grass slope, up to the other entrance of the hospital, into the classroom. But the reason for the delay was purely a reason of security.

"You may recall when I had to make the announcement I refused to discuss the whereabouts or destination of President Johnson. Again, this was based on considerations of security.

"When we got back on the plane all the window shades were drawn so that no one could see in the plane from outside."

Savings, Loan Stock Low Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Many California saving and loan stocks are back near their 1962-63 lows but an industry analyst says it's because of adverse publicity, not higher interest rates on bank savings.

The cycle began nearly two years ago when major New York banks and others raised interest rates to 4 per cent for certain long-term deposits.

Savings and loan groups in California responded with interest hikes that finally reached 4.85 per cent. The competitive raise eventually generated so much business that from October 1962 to April 1963, S and L stocks jumped an average of 50 per cent, the analyst said.

Then this fall a few associations decided to try a 5 per cent interest rate. At the same time, the federal government was talking about tighter regulations for savings and loan firms.

The government spokesman warned that risky loans might have an adverse effect on savings and loan financial structure.

As a result, the 50 per cent gains have been mostly lost, said the analyst.

Given peace and quiet after the tax-selling season, he concluded, they could start right back up.

Stock Dividend

SAN FRANCISCO—Bart Lytton, president and chairman, announced directors of Lytton Financial Corp. have voted a 25 per cent year end stock dividend plus a 50 per cent cash return of surplus distribution to stockholders of record Dec. 31, 1962, payable Jan 24, 1964.

Three Hurt In Marin Crashes

Three persons, including a deputy sheriff, were injured in Marin automobile accidents investigated by the California Highway Patrol yesterday as the holiday went into full swing.

Deputy Sheriff George John Reuss, 42, of 39 Bennit Avenue, San Anselmo, suffered minor injuries when a car driven by Ruben Wayne Mustion, 22, of Rohnert Park, Sonoma County, swung into the side of the patrol car on Highway 101, about 200 feet south of Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael, at 10:10 a.m.

Reuss was passing Mustion's car in the southbound lane when Mustion's steering mechanism gave way and the car swung into the patrol vehicle, the Highway Patrol reported.

Lawrence Carter Smalley, 49, of 305 Ellin Court, Marinwood, was under observation today at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital after his small foreign car overturned on Highway 101, one-half mile north of the Terra Linda overpass, at 4:15 p.m. yesterday.

Smalley, a retired Army officer, was cited for failure to drive in a single lane by the highway patrol.

Joseph Russo, 26, of 10 Pico Vista, Novato, suffered minor injuries when his car was hit from behind on the southbound access road to Highway 101 from Lucas Valley Road at 5:30 p.m.

Russo's car was pushed into a ditch by a car driven by Carmen A. Swezy, 36, of 777 Meadowsweet Drive, San Rafael.

JFK Estate To Children, Mrs. Kennedy

BOSTON (UPI)—The value of late President John K. Kennedy's estate may not be known for at least three months, probate court officials said today. However, it is expected to total several million dollars.

Kennedy's will, filed yesterday for probate, left the bulk of his estate in trust to his widow Jacqueline and their two children, Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3.

The worth of the estate will not be known until a bond is filed by the attorney for the executors, court officials said. They said the bond may not be filed for three months.

DATED IN 1954

The 17-page will was dated June 18, 1954 when Kennedy was a senator. The document was filed 31 days after he was assassinated at Dallas, Tex.

Equal shares in the estate were designated to Mrs. Kennedy, 34, and to the children as a unit. They were not identified by name since neither was born at the time Kennedy's will was drawn. The will referred only to "surviving children."

Mrs. Kennedy and the late president's brothers, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.) were listed as executors.

Kennedy also designated his widow and brothers as trustees of the trusts established by the will. As alternate trustees he designated his sisters Mrs. Eunice Shriver, Mrs. Patricia Lawford and Mrs. Jean Smith.

'NO BONDS'

The will specified that "no bond be filed and that no inventory of my estate need be filed."

Court officers said that under Massachusetts law, some sort of bond and inventory would be necessary. The will, after it is advertised, will be given a hearing before a judge on its admittance as a legal document.

This will be in about three weeks, a court spokesman said, and under normal procedure appraisers would be named to set the value of the estate—an action which could take as long as six months.

Eddie Fisher Opens Fire On Liz, Burton

Says They Act Like Two 'Kids' In A Play Pen

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Singer Eddie Fisher opened his Christmas show last night before an enthusiastic audience without a trace of tension that earlier in the day precipitated a verbal blast at his wife, Elizabeth Taylor, and her lover.

An overflow crowd loudly applauded the singer as he began a four-week stand, during which time his beautiful wife plans to obtain a Mexican divorce to marry Welsh actor Richard Burton.

Fisher sang 15 love songs during his show, but never made a comment about his estranged wife, as he has often done during past shows.

DRINKING BOUT

Almost at the same time, Burton—who plans to play Santa Claus to the needy children of Puerto Vallarta, Mexico—told reporters during a four-hour drinking bout that he plans to marry Miss Taylor as soon after the middle of January as possible.

Burton said he will wear a Santa Claus suit when he and Miss Taylor distribute gifts at the town plaza.

MILLION DOLLARS

It was reports reaching Fisher about the problems over a divorce that apparently provoked the singer's outburst.

"I'm not holding things up," he said when asked about the reports from Miss Taylor that he was holding out for the million dollars.

"I haven't been offered any money. And I haven't asked for anything," he said. "I don't want anything from either of them."

Fisher said he wanted only to fulfill his responsibilities to his adopted daughters, Lisa Todd Fisher and Marie Fisher, and "whatever obligations I have to the two boys," Michael and Christopher by Miss Taylor's marriage to Michael Wilding.

His voice shaking with emotion as he spoke, Fisher said that "Elizabeth and Burton are acting like a couple of kids in a play pen, footstamping and petulant."

"I'm just as anxious as Sir Richard the Lion Hearted Burton to get this thing over with. All I want is to get back my certificate of marriage—and it wouldn't be a bad idea for me to buy back my introduction to both of them.

"I'm not bitter, I'm just terribly angry at the lack of taste and dignity shown by the two of them. I don't condemn them for anything except trying to put the blame on me now."

WORLD CELEBRATES BIRTH OF CHRIST

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thousands of pilgrims flocked to the grotto of Christ's birth in Bethlehem today as Christians prepared to celebrate the birth of the Prince of Peace.

Two hundred Jordanian police were assigned to special duty with army desert troops in Manger Square outside Bethlehem's Church of the Nativity. As many as 10,000 worshipers were expected to gather there for Christmas Eve rites.

Loudspeakers last night wafted carol music across the stone-paved square lit by garish neon lights, an electric sign reading "Welcome to Bethlehem" and the bright bulbs of the municipal Christmas tree.

About 6,000 tourists are crowded into Jerusalem's hotels, monasteries and private homes. Another 3,061 were to swell the crowd today when Christian Arabs from Israel cross the barbed wire frontiers. The border opens only once a year for Israel's Christians.

Christians throughout the world observe the Nativity with midnight religious services, family reunions and feastings. Pope Paul VI in his first Christmas message pleaded for peace and unity on earth.

But scattered around the world were stark reminders of the differences that divide mankind — war in South Vietnam, communal shooting in Cyprus, U.S. troops on patrol on the bleak, freezing hills dividing North and South Korea, the Communist wall through Berlin.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy is observing Christmas with her late husband's family in Palm Beach, Fla. Late yesterday, she took her two children — Caroline, 6 and John Jr., 3—Christmas shopping. But they had to cut short their outing because of the crowd that formed after they were recognized.

In Cuba, the government of Fidel Castro decreed an additional quota of food would be distributed.

Postoffice Reports Drop Of 6 Per Cent

The San Rafael Post Office today reported a surprising 6 per cent drop from last year in Christmas season volume of mail. The decrease was about the same in both incoming and outgoing mail.

The count, including all letters, cards and parcels, was 10,895,637 this year, compared to 11,600,898 in 1962 for the same period, Nov. 30 through Dec. 23.

First class mail was down about 4 per cent this year, responsible for most of the decrease. Parcel post was up 26 per cent. Gross income this year showed a strong 44.6 per cent increase for the 24-day period, amounting to $109,859.84 compared to $75,990.28 for the same period last year.

Heaviest mail of this season was handled Dec. 19, a total of 908,088 items.

Postmaster Warren H. Williams said 112 extra employees were used this year Dec. 9-24, making a total complement of 277. He termed this about average for the past few years.

School Ouster Petitions Due

Petitions asking trustees of Lagunitas School District to reconsider their ouster of Supt. Clifford L. Frye will be presented Jan. 7.

George England, operator of the Forest Knolls Food Market, said the petitions, distributed last Friday, are now in eight public places in the area. He would not name the locations.

England had no idea today how many had signed. He said the petitions have no legal merit and are not designed to "pressure" the board, only to show what the sentiment of the community is.

Frye's resignation, effective next June, was accepted by a 3-to-2 vote of the board Dec. 17.

Quarry Apartment Plans Gaining

Preliminary drawings for 290 apartment units, none of which would be housed in buildings of over three stories, were approved last night for the Quarry Hill site by the Corte Madera Board of Design.

The Sausalito architectural firm of Wedell and Duns was told to present more complete plans to the board at its Jan. 27 meeting.

FREITAS ESTATE

San Rafael Is Offered Terra Linda Park Site

The Freitas Estate, represented by Walter Freitas, has offered to give the City of San Rafael a parcel of land in Terra Linda for a park site.

Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota reported the offer at a meeting of the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission yesterday.

The parcel at the end of Hunt Road, off Devon Drive, has from two to three acres of "reasonably flat" area and an undetermined amount of open space on adjacent steep, sloping hills, Rodota said.

The boundaries have not yet been worked out and the city must give assurance of access to adjacent Freitas properties, Rodota said.

The parks and recreation commission also seeks to acquire two other Terra Linda sites for "three to four acre" parks.

Freitas has assured the commission that a parcel at the end of Monticello Road, adjacent to Don Timoteo School, has been reserved as a park site, Rodota said.

The city also is negotiating for a 3.9-acre parcel at the end of De la Guerra Road, and a purchase price is expected to be reached early next year, he said.

Anticipating needs in the growing Lucas Valley area, two commissioners, Chairman Carl J. Brown and Mrs. Charles G. Strom, took a field trip yesterday to potential neighborhood park sites along Lucas Valley Road, south of Marinwood.

One site, south of the intersection of Lucas Valley Road and Las Gallinas Avenue, might be developed in conjunction with a new school plannned by the Dixie School District, Rodota said. The site is outside the city limits, and it will have to be determined whether the city can legally establish a park there, he said. If a park is developed adjacent to a school area, three acres would be acquired. If a site is not adjacent to a school, six acres would be needed.

Commissioners directed Rodota to prepare outlines describing the two potential sites along Lucas Valley Road.

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission approved hiring Ribera and Sue, landscape architects, to prepare plans for redevelopment of a portion of Gerstle Park at a cost not to exceed $250.

Train-Car Crash Kills Bay Poet

KING CITY (AP) — A shattering crash of the Holiday-crowded Southern Pacific Daylight train into an automobile killed Miss Lucille Nixon, Palo Alto educator and poet, at a San Lucas railroad crossing yesterday.

Idlewild Officially 'Kennedy'

NEW YORK (AP) — Idlewild Airport became the John F. Kennedy International Airport in a simple ceremony today.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.), a brother of the assassinated president, joined other officials in unveiling at the airport of three three-foot letters—"JFK."

S. Sloan Colt, chairman of the Port of New York Authority, which operates the city-owned field, said the letters would form part of a 242-foot-long sign to be erected at the airport.

Senator Kennedy said the renaming of the airport for his brother was "a dedication of which I know he would have been proud."

The senator appeared in place of U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, another brother, who originally had been expected at the ceremony.

Mrs. Stephen Smith, a sister of the Kennedy brothers, was among those attending.

Vegetable Oil Aide Indicted

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Anthony De Angelis, president of the bankrupt Allied Crude Vegetable Oil and Refining Corp., was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of interstate transportation of nearly 40-million dollars of forged warehouse receipts.

De Angelis was accused in an 18-count indictment of transporting forged receipts of American Express Warehousing Ltd.

The collapse of his company led to the demise of two Wall Street brokerage firms, involved financial institutions around the world, and touched off federal and state investigations.

They are Robert Hansen of 241 Cardinal Road and Larry Modell of 403 La Verne Avenue. The money was turned over to its owner, Mrs. John Eberhart of 11 Heuter Lane, Terzich said.

Too Much Of Good Thing For His Role

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Most men playing Santa Claus have to allow extra room in the costume for padding. Not so Charles Wolfe.

Before he could take the role of Santa at a shopping center in nearby Leetsdale where he's regularly employed, Wolfe had to have a special costume made at a reported cost of $150. Wolfe weighs 350 pounds.

Library Plan Gets Approval

Susalito Public Library trustees Saturday unanimously approved a plan of service offered by North Bay Cooperative system council to create the system's own headquarters and expand services.

The other two libraries in Marin, Mill Valley and Marin County, have already approved the plan — Mill Valley on Dec. 12 and the county Dec. 17.

All 17 libraries in the system, involving Marin, Mendocino, Sonoma, Solano and Napa counties, as well as the California State Library in Sacramento, must agree to the plan before it is effective.

Amount requested of the state librarian for the expansion is $103,000. The funds, if approved, would come from $850,000 made available in the last State Legislative session under the Public Library Development Act.

Three Hurt In Marin Crashes

Three persons, including a deputy sheriff, were injured in Marin automobile accidents investigated by the California Highway Patrol yesterday as the holiday went into full swing.

Deputy Sheriff George John Reuss, 42, of 39 Bennit Avenue, San Anselmo, suffered minor injuries when a car driven by Ruben Wayne Mustion, 22, of Rohnert Park, Sonoma County, swung into the side of the patrol car on Highway 101, about 200 feet south of Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael, at 10:10 a.m.

Reuss was passing Mustion's car in the southbound lane when Mustion's steering mechanism gave way and the car swung into the patrol vehicle, the Highway Patrol reported.

Lawrence Carter Smalley, 49, of 305 Ellin Court, Marinwood, was under observation today at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital after his small foreign car overturned on Highway 101, one-half mile north of the Terra Linda overpass, at 4:15 p.m. yesterday.

Smalley, a retired Army officer, was cited for failure to drive in a single lane by the highway patrol.

Joseph Russo, 26, of 10 Pico Vista, Novato, suffered minor injuries when his car was hit from behind on the southbound access road to Highway 101 from Lucas Valley Road at 5:30 p.m.

Russo's car was pushed into a ditch by a car driven by Carmen A. Swezy, 36, of 777 Meadowsweet Drive, San Rafael.

JFK Estate To Children, Mrs. Kennedy

BOSTON (UPI)—The value of late President John K. Kennedy's estate may not be known for at least three months, probate court officials said today. However, it is expected to total several million dollars.

Kennedy's will, filed yesterday for probate, left the bulk of his estate in trust to his widow Jacqueline and their two children, Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3.

The worth of the estate will not be known until a bond is filed by the attorney for the executors, court officials said. They said the bond may not be filed for three months.

DATED IN 1954

The 17-page will was dated June 18, 1954 when Kennedy was a senator. The document was filed 31 days after he was assassinated at Dallas, Tex.

Equal shares in the estate were designated to Mrs. Kennedy, 34, and to the children as a unit. They were not identified by name since neither was born at the time Kennedy's will was drawn. The will referred only to "surviving children."

Mrs. Kennedy and the late president's brothers, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.) were listed as executors.

Kennedy also designated his widow and brothers as trustees of the trusts established by the will. As alternate trustees he designated his sisters Mrs. Eunice Shriver, Mrs. Patricia Lawford and Mrs. Jean Smith.

'NO BONDS'

The will specified that "no bond be filed and that no inventory of my estate need be filed."

Court officers said that under Massachusetts law, some sort of bond and inventory would be necessary. The will, after it is advertised, will be given a hearing before a judge on its admittance as a legal document.

This will be in about three weeks, a court spokesman said, and under normal procedure appraisers would be named to set the value of the estate—an action which could take as long as six months.

Eddie Fisher Opens Fire On Liz, Burton

Says They Act Like Two 'Kids' In A Play Pen

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Singer Eddie Fisher opened his Christmas show last night before an enthusiastic audience without a trace of tension that earlier in the day precipitated a verbal blast at his wife, Elizabeth Taylor, and her lover.

An overflow crowd loudly applauded the singer as he began a four-week stand, during which time his beautiful wife plans to obtain a Mexican divorce to marry Welsh actor Richard Burton.

Fisher sang 15 love songs during his show, but never made a comment about his estranged wife, as he has often done during past shows.

DRINKING BOUT

Almost at the same time, Burton—who plans to play Santa Claus to the needy children of Puerto Vallarta, Mexico—told reporters during a four-hour drinking bout that he plans to marry Miss Taylor as soon after the middle of January as possible.

Burton said he will wear a Santa Claus suit when he and Miss Taylor distribute gifts at the town plaza.

MILLION DOLLARS

It was reports reaching Fisher about the problems over a divorce that apparently provoked the singer's outburst.

"I'm not holding things up," he said when asked about the reports from Miss Taylor that he was holding out for the million dollars.

"I haven't been offered any money. And I haven't asked for anything," he said. "I don't want anything from either of them."

Fisher said he wanted only to fulfill his responsibilities to his adopted daughters, Lisa Todd Fisher and Marie Fisher, and "whatever obligations I have to the two boys," Michael and Christopher by Miss Taylor's marriage to Michael Wilding.

His voice shaking with emotion as he spoke, Fisher said that "Elizabeth and Burton are acting like a couple of kids in a play pen, footstamping and petulant."

"I'm just as anxious as Sir Richard the Lion Hearted Burton to get this thing over with. All I want is to get back my certificate of marriage—and it wouldn't be a bad idea for me to buy back my introduction to both of them.

"I'm not bitter, I'm just terribly angry at the lack of taste and dignity shown by the two of them. I don't condemn them for anything except trying to put the blame on me now."

WORLD CELEBRATES BIRTH OF CHRIST

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thousands of pilgrims flocked to the grotto of Christ's birth in Bethlehem today as Christians prepared to celebrate the birth of the Prince of Peace.

Two hundred Jordanian police were assigned to special duty with army desert troops in Manger Square outside Bethlehem's Church of the Nativity. As many as 10,000 worshipers were expected to gather there for Christmas Eve rites.

Loudspeakers last night wafted carol music across the stone-paved square lit by garish neon lights, an electric sign reading "Welcome to Bethlehem" and the bright bulbs of the municipal Christmas tree.

About 6,000 tourists are crowded into Jerusalem's hotels, monasteries and private homes. Another 3,061 were to swell the crowd today when Christian Arabs from Israel cross the barbed wire frontiers. The border opens only once a year for Israel's Christians.

Christians throughout the world observe the Nativity with midnight religious services, family reunions and feastings. Pope Paul VI in his first Christmas message pleaded for peace and unity on earth.

But scattered around the world were stark reminders of the differences that divide mankind — war in South Vietnam, communal shooting in Cyprus, U.S. troops on patrol on the bleak, freezing hills dividing North and South Korea, the Communist wall through Berlin.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy is observing Christmas with her late husband's family in Palm Beach, Fla. Late yesterday, she took her two children — Caroline, 6 and John Jr., 3—Christmas shopping. But they had to cut short their outing because of the crowd that formed after they were recognized.

In Cuba, the government of Fidel Castro decreed an additional quota of food would be distributed.

Postoffice Reports Drop Of 6 Per Cent

The San Rafael Post Office today reported a surprising 6 per cent drop from last year in Christmas season volume of mail. The decrease was about the same in both incoming and outgoing mail.

The count, including all letters, cards and parcels, was 10,895,637 this year, compared to 11,600,898 in 1962 for the same period, Nov. 30 through Dec. 23.

First class mail was down about 4 per cent this year, responsible for most of the decrease. Parcel post was up 26 per cent. Gross income this year showed a strong 44.6 per cent increase for the 24-day period, amounting to $109,859.84 compared to $75,990.28 for the same period last year.

Heaviest mail of this season was handled Dec. 19, a total of 908,088 items.

Postmaster Warren H. Williams said 112 extra employees were used this year Dec. 9-24, making a total complement of 277. He termed this about average for the past few years.

School Ouster Petitions Due

Petitions asking trustees of Lagunitas School District to reconsider their ouster of Supt. Clifford L. Frye will be presented Jan. 7.

George England, operator of the Forest Knolls Food Market, said the petitions, distributed last Friday, are now in eight public places in the area. He would not name the locations.

England had no idea today how many had signed. He said the petitions have no legal merit and are not designed to "pressure" the board, only to show what the sentiment of the community is.

Frye's resignation, effective next June, was accepted by a 3-to-2 vote of the board Dec. 17.

Quarry Apartment Plans Gaining

Preliminary drawings for 290 apartment units, none of which would be housed in buildings of over three stories, were approved last night for the Quarry Hill site by the Corte Madera Board of Design.

The Sausalito architectural firm of Wedell and Duns was told to present more complete plans to the board at its Jan. 27 meeting.

FREITAS ESTATE

San Rafael Is Offered Terra Linda Park Site

The Freitas Estate, represented by Walter Freitas, has offered to give the City of San Rafael a parcel of land in Terra Linda for a park site.

Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota reported the offer at a meeting of the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission yesterday.

The parcel at the end of Hunt Road, off Devon Drive, has from two to three acres of "reasonably flat" area and an undetermined amount of open space on adjacent steep, sloping hills, Rodota said.

The boundaries have not yet been worked out and the city must give assurance of access to adjacent Freitas properties, Rodota said.

The parks and recreation commission also seeks to acquire two other Terra Linda sites for "three to four acre" parks.

Freitas has assured the commission that a parcel at the end of Monticello Road, adjacent to Don Timoteo School, has been reserved as a park site, Rodota said.

The city also is negotiating for a 3.9-acre parcel at the end of De la Guerra Road, and a purchase price is expected to be reached early next year, he said.

Anticipating needs in the growing Lucas Valley area, two commissioners, Chairman Carl J. Brown and Mrs. Charles G. Strom, took a field trip yesterday to potential neighborhood park sites along Lucas Valley Road, south of Marinwood.

One site, south of the intersection of Lucas Valley Road and Las Gallinas Avenue, might be developed in conjunction with a new school plannned by the Dixie School District, Rodota said. The site is outside the city limits, and it will have to be determined whether the city can legally establish a park there, he said. If a park is developed adjacent to a school area, three acres would be acquired. If a site is not adjacent to a school, six acres would be needed.

Commissioners directed Rodota to prepare outlines describing the two potential sites along Lucas Valley Road.

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission approved hiring Ribera and Sue, landscape architects, to prepare plans for redevelopment of a portion of Gerstle Park at a cost not to exceed $250.

Idlewild Officially 'Kennedy'

NEW YORK (AP) — Idlewild Airport became the John F. Kennedy International Airport in a simple ceremony today.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.), a brother of the assassinated president, joined other officials in unveiling at the airport of three three-foot letters—"JFK."

S. Sloan Colt, chairman of the Port of New York Authority, which operates the city-owned field, said the letters would form part of a 242-foot-long sign to be erected at the airport.

Senator Kennedy said the renaming of the airport for his brother was "a dedication of which I know he would have been proud."

The senator appeared in place of U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, another brother, who originally had been expected at the ceremony.

Mrs. Stephen Smith, a sister of the Kennedy brothers, was among those attending.

All 17 libraries in the system, involving Marin, Mendocino, Sonoma, Solano and Napa counties, as well as the California State Library in Sacramento, must agree to the plan before it is effective.

Amount requested of the state librarian for the expansion is $103,000. The funds, if approved, would come from $850,000 made available in the last State Legislative session under the Public Library Development Act.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1814, a treaty of peace was signed between the United States and Great Britain, at Ghent, Belgium, bringing an end to the war of 1812.

In 1871; Verdi's opera "Aida" was premiered in Cairo, Egypt.

In 1943, President Franklin Roosevelt announced the appointment of General Dwight Eisenhower as the commander-in-chief of allied forces in the planned invasion of Europe.

A thought for the day—the prophet Isaiah foresaw the birth of Christ and predicted "Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son. And shall call His name Jesus." IRS93

Young Star Who Fooled Opponent To Play In World Session In May

When the world championships open in New York next May, two of the six players on the American team will be young and comparatively unknown.

Robert Hamman and Donald Krauss, both of Los Angeles and each only 26 years old, won their spurs in a special six-day contest, from which the hand shown today is taken.

West opened the deuce of spades, won by dummy's king. Declarer led a low heart from dummy, and Hamman had to win with his singleton ace.

RETURNED SPADE

When this hand was played at other tables, East usually returned a spade.

It's hard to see what this could accomplish, but my job is to tell the truth and the truth is that seven or eight of the best players in the country returned a futile spade.

Hamman did better. He returned the deuce of diamonds. What's more, he led the deuce of diamonds without any telltale hesitation.

DECEIVES DECLARER

Put yourself in South's position. If that deuce of diamonds happens to be a singleton (and it certainly looks like one), it would be fatal to finesse.

West would win with the king of diamonds and return a diamond for East to ruff; and South would still have to lose tricks to the ace and king of hearts.

Was there any reasonable alternative? South could step up with the ace of diamonds and run the clubs.

If the clubs broke 4-3 (and the odds were about 5 to 3 that they would), South could get rid of one diamond on the third club and could lead the fourth club to get rid of his last diamond.

WOULD LOSE THREE

He would lose only three trump tricks if the clubs broke reasonably.

Acting on this assumption, South stepped up with the ace of diamonds and went after the clubs. West ruffed the third club and led a diamond in time to give East a trick with the king.

If you practice looking like a bogeyman you'll find that some of your opponents will frighten themselves into making the wrong play.

Chris Rehired; Tells Plan Of Rebuilding The 49ers

Just how long they won't say, nor how much he'll receive for the rebuilding effort, but the 49ers did announce yesterday that the 35-year-old former defense ace has been reappointed head coach.

Following the season, players were virtually unanimous in support of Christiansen's continuing as coach. President Vic Morabito said no one else was considered.

Chris took control when Red Hickey quit Sept. 30 after the 49ers had lost five exhibition games and their first three league battles. Under the interim coach, the club posted only a 2-9 record, yet showed improvement though continually plagued with injuries.

Quarterback John Brodie, defensive end Charlie Krueger all were on the ailing list most of the campaign.

Christiansen said his aim for the team is better execution of a limited number of plays. He will stick with the basic pro T.

"We want to make it simple, easy to handle and then concentrate on execution," he declared. "Green Bay doesn't have a great number of plays but the team has good execution."

Morabito said, "We feel Chris deserves a full opportunity to coach the club. He took over as interim coach early in the season under very adverse circumstances. We feel he merits the chance to develop the team.

"I talked only to Chris. The only reason for the delay in his appointment was my health. Doctors advised me to refrain from any club activity for a certain period of time and this I did."

Christiansen said his assistants—Bill Johnson, Jack Myers and Dick Voris—would return. He will be able to appoint another assistant since no one was named to his own defensive backfield coaching position when he was promoted.

Christiansen starred in football and track at Colorado State and later as an all pro defensive halfback with the Detroit Lions.

Already the 49ers have signed three of their top draft choices — quarterback George Mira and ends Dave Parks and Vern Burke.

Christiansen has watched the latter two practicing with the West for the East-West game and observed, "I feel they're capable of playing pro football and can help our club."

Marin Hunter Learns Details Of Russian Goose He Killed Here

You may remember the story from a couple of years ago about the San Rafael bartender who cooked Khrushchev's goose? Literally, I mean.

To refresh your memory, it all started in December of 1961 when Gene Vellutini, our mixologist friend, was hunting at Lambertville, six miles south of Willows. Powee, Gino downs this Snow Goose, attached to which was a band, upon which was some furrin' langwidge. Sure enough, it was a Russian goose, banded by the USSR Academy of Sciences.

Vellutini turned the band over to J. E. Downs, U.S. game management agent in Sacramento, for further investigation.

Well, after two years, a report was returned to Vellutini the other day by the U.S. Department of Interior. Its investigation showed that the Snow Goose was banded at Wrangel Island, USSR on July 23, 1961. As Vellutini killed it on Dec. 10 of the same year, it means Comrade Goose made it all the way from Russia to northern California in less than five months, as the goose flies.

Anyway, Vellutini still claims to be the only bartender who has literally cooked Khrushchev's goose.

Gene, who dispenses the giggly water at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, says this was the first Russian-tagged goose known killed in the U.S. There have been several killed since.

JOHNNY BOCCABELLA of San Anselmo, who jumped from college baseball to the major leagues last season, will make another monumental step Saturday.

The Chicago Cubs' first baseman will marry childhood sweetheart Joyce Rae Leonardi of San Rafael at St. Raphael's Church.

Johnny, who graduated from Santa Clara last June and broke in with the Cubs in September after a brief but sensational minor league stint, recently returned from Arizona where he played in an instructional league and hit around .300. The Cubs reportedly will give him a good shot at the regular first base job next season as the veteran Ernie Banks, suffering from a mysterious ailment, appears on the way out.

PETE SAGUES, former Drake High swimstar, recently was named San Jose State's outstanding senior water polo player after leading the Spartans to the runner-up spot in the last two state college meets.

ORDERS FROM 49ERS

Mira Can't Play Texas Bowl Game

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers say George Mira won't be playing in the Southwest Challenge Bowl here Jan. 4 but the Southwest Challenge Bowl people say they'll see about that. The board of directors met today to decide if it would sue somebody.

The famed passer of the University of Miami, announced a week ago as quarterback of the Southwest All-Stars in the game matching the Southwest against the rest of the nation, will play in the Senior Bowl, according to Lou Spadia, general manager of the 49ers, who hold his contract.

Spadia's ultimatum was delivered to the Southwest Challenge Bowl officials yesterday.

Bob Hamric, chairman of the selection committee, said Mira had confirmed four times that he would be here, that he already had been paid $1,000 with other benefits, and that he didn't know of a hitch in plans until he contacted Mira the fifth time.

Then Mira told him he could not play here and would have to appear in the Senior Bowl on orders of the 49ers.

Hamric declared that "I believe we have the basis for a lawsuit. I thought our deal with Mira was as firm and set as any I ever made in my life. I have a telegram in which he agrees to play in the Challenge Bowl."

Hamric added that he had sent the $1,000 to Mira's coach, Andy Gustafson, who was to hold it until after Mira played in the game here. "We have a receipt that Gustafson received the money."

Hamric said the agreement was made before Mira signed a contract with San Francisco.

Mira was to play with the Southwest All-Stars although he is not within the area, The Challenge Bowl wanted him to because it didn't have a top-flight quarterback except Duke Carlisle of Texas, who can't practice with the squad since he will play in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas Jan. 1.

WILL IT FLOURISH OR DIE?

Boxing's TV-Less Future

NEW YORK (AP) — Boxing promoters who have staged fistic shows with and without television had differing opinions today as to whether a total blackout of fights on television will help or hurt the hardy old sport.

Herman Taylor of Philadelphia, 76-year-old dean of American fight promoters, said "personally I can't complain about TV," but added "there is no question about TV doing boxing no good."

"We have to live with TV," said Chris Dundee of Miami Beach, Fla. "I think a lot of fans look for the Friday night fights on TV."

"Boxing will enjoy a new lease on life," said Archie Litman of Pittsburgh. "It may take longer and be more difficult to develop headline attractions. But the fans will return to the practice of paying to see to fight."

"I think one show a week on TV would help boxing," said Sam Silverman of Boston. "It has kept interest up in boxing and done a lot for it."

SHOWS GALORE

Back in the 1950s there were six network fight shows a week. They were beamed over regional and national networks on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Saturday nights.

The Gillette-sponsored Friday night bouts from Madison Square Garden and other major arenas, have been telecast since 1944. It is the longest continuous sponsored program on television.

It is the last regular fight program on television and it is tottering. The American Broadcasting Co. confirmed yesterday that it plans to drop boxing from its network scheduling in 1964, possibly in April.

A Gillette spokesman said: "This was the network's decision. We realize ABC's problem with declining ratings. Enough people just weren't watching the show and the network decided to drop it."

ABC and Gillette were reported seeking another sports program to replace the fight cards. Football, college and pro, is getting a large share of the TV advertisers' dollars.

There was another report that the change may take place as early as April although the ABC-Gillette contract with the Garden runs through September.

NO OFFICIAL WORD

"We have no notification from anyone that the weekly boxing shows will be dropped from television," said Harry Markson, director of boxing at the Garden.

"Even if these shows will be dropped from television, even if these reports about ABC and the sponsors proves to be true, that does not mean an end to Garden boxing. We ran boxing successfully before TV and will continue to do so."

If boxing goes off television, fighters will be paid on their ability to draw customers as they were in the pre-TV days. Now main event fighters are guaranteed a minimum of $4,000 each for TV fights and champions command sums up to the $100,000 range.

Union Members Strike At Santa Anita Track

ARCADIA (UPI)—Union members today continued their strike against the Santa Anita Race Track—which is scheded to open its winter season Thursday—in protest over increased automation and workloads.

The strike began at 12:01 a.m. today after negotiation between the Building Services Union and the Federation of California Racing Associations, FCRA, representing the track, broke off in a stalemate.

The track had offered to increase wages 75 cents per day per year for three years and an increase of 50 cents per day for those working the daily double. The track also agreed to finance a study of the workload of mutual clerks.

The offers were turned down by the union.

Earlier yesterday, the Los Angeles County Federation of Labor announced that strike sanctions had been approved against the track, thus other unions were supporting the pari-mutual clerks and other locals in the strike.

The FCRA, when informed of this action said it would stand firm on the offer it had already made.

The powerful teamsters union also announced they would support the strikers and that their drivers would respect the picket lines.

The Building Service Union includes the maintenance workers and pari-mutual clerks.

FORMER MARIN STAR NAMED SHRINE COACH

Vince Tringali, former College of Marin football star and for the past two seasons head coach of St. Ignatius High School in San Francisco today was named co-coach of the North against the South in the Shrine's 13th annual all-star football game next summer.

Tringali, 35, has guided St. Ignatius to two consecutive undefeated championship seasons in San Francisco in 1962 and '63.

Tringali played end for College of Marin in 1948 and '49.

Trull Signs With Oilers

STANFORD (UPI)—Don Trull, who will be pitching footballs for the west team Saturday, will be doing the same for the Houston Oilers next season.

The American Football League team announced yesterday that both Trull and his Baylor teammate, tackle Bob Crenshaw, had signed contracts.

Crenshaw was third choice of the Oilers this year as well as the number 11 pick of the Dallas Cowboys of the National League. Trull was number 14 choice of the Oilers last year as a red-shirt. Baltimore drafted him number 9 at the same time.

Trull led major quarterbacks in passing this year. He sparked Baylor to a 7-3 record as well as a 14-7 win last Saturday over LSU in the Bluebonnet Bowl. He is expected to do most of the passing for the West team in Saturday's East-West game in San Francisco.

Short Passes May Be West's Best Weapons

West Coach Jim Sutherland again had the air filled with footballs as West quarterbacks Don Trull of Baylor and Bill Munson of Utah State yesterday passed through a long morning drill at Stanford.

Sutherland was so pleased with the workout that he gave his troops the afternoon off.

While ends Vern Burke of Oregon State and Mel Profit of UCLA snagged their share of long passes, there was a special emphasis on quick pitches to speedsters Willie Brown of USC and Charlie Taylor of Arizona State.

Each can go all the way any time he turns the corner and it appears the West may try to click on short tosses and take its chances on the open field ability of the flanker backs.

At East camp, defensive coach Ben Schwartzwalder was the happiest of the coaching staff after his pass defense stood up well in practice air drills. Halfbacks Paul Warfield of Ohio State and Paul Martha of Pittsburgh were especially difficult to pass over or in front of.

The East took two drills yesterday.

The two teams square off Saturday in Kezar Stadium. A full house of 60,000 is certain after the earliest sell-out in the history of the Shrine game.

Wilt Takes Over NBA Scoring Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—It was just a matter of time, but perennial scoring leader Wilt Chamberlain of the San Francisco Warriors finally has taken over as the No. 1 point-producer in the National Basketball Assn.

The 7-foot-1 Stilt displaced Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals as the league's leading scorer this week according to figures released by the NBA today.

Chamberlain, who concentrated more on setting up Warrior baskets in the early weeks of the campaign, became the first player in the league to reach the thousand-point mark. The Big Dipper collected 142 points during the week for a season's output of 1,021.

Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks moved into second place in front of Robertson with 967 points. The Big O dropped into third with 941.

Just how long they won't say, nor how much he'll receive for the rebuilding effort, but the 49ers did announce yesterday that the 35-year-old former defense ace has been reappointed head coach.

Following the season, players were virtually unanimous in support of Christiansen's continuing as coach. President Vic Morabito said no one else was considered.

Chris took control when Red Hickey quit Sept. 30 after the 49ers had lost five exhibition games and their first three league battles. Under the interim coach, the club posted only a 2-9 record, yet showed improvement though continually plagued with injuries.

Quarterback John Brodie, defensive end Charlie Krueger all were on the ailing list most of the campaign.

Christiansen said his aim for the team is better execution of a limited number of plays. He will stick with the basic pro T.

"We want to make it simple, easy to handle and then concentrate on execution," he declared. "Green Bay doesn't have a great number of plays but the team has good execution."

Morabito said, "We feel Chris deserves a full opportunity to coach the club. He took over as interim coach early in the season under very adverse circumstances. We feel he merits the chance to develop the team.

"I talked only to Chris. The only reason for the delay in his appointment was my health. Doctors advised me to refrain from any club activity for a certain period of time and this I did."

Christiansen said his assistants—Bill Johnson, Jack Myers and Dick Voris—would return. He will be able to appoint another assistant since no one was named to his own defensive backfield coaching position when he was promoted.

Christiansen starred in football and track at Colorado State and later as an all pro defensive halfback with the Detroit Lions.

Already the 49ers have signed three of their top draft choices — quarterback George Mira and ends Dave Parks and Vern Burke.

Christiansen has watched the latter two practicing with the West for the East-West game and observed, "I feel they're capable of playing pro football and can help our club."

SHRINE STARS VISIT MARIN YOUTH

You may remember the story from a couple of years ago about the San Rafael bartender who cooked Khrushchev's goose? Literally, I mean.

To refresh your memory, it all started in December of 1961 when Gene Vellutini, our mixologist friend, was hunting at Lambertville, six miles south of Willows. Powee, Gino downs this Snow Goose, attached to which was a band, upon which was some furrin' langwidge. Sure enough, it was a Russian goose, banded by the USSR Academy of Sciences.

Vellutini turned the band over to J. E. Downs, U.S. game management agent in Sacramento, for further investigation.

Well, after two years, a report was returned to Vellutini the other day by the U.S. Department of Interior. Its investigation showed that the Snow Goose was banded at Wrangel Island, USSR on July 23, 1961. As Vellutini killed it on Dec. 10 of the same year, it means Comrade Goose made it all the way from Russia to northern California in less than five months, as the goose flies.

Anyway, Vellutini still claims to be the only bartender who has literally cooked Khrushchev's goose.

Gene, who dispenses the giggly water at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, says this was the first Russian-tagged goose known killed in the U.S. There have been several killed since.

JOHNNY BOCCABELLA of San Anselmo, who jumped from college baseball to the major leagues last season, will make another monumental step Saturday.

The Chicago Cubs' first baseman will marry childhood sweetheart Joyce Rae Leonardi of San Rafael at St. Raphael's Church.

Johnny, who graduated from Santa Clara last June and broke in with the Cubs in September after a brief but sensational minor league stint, recently returned from Arizona where he played in an instructional league and hit around .300. The Cubs reportedly will give him a good shot at the regular first base job next season as the veteran Ernie Banks, suffering from a mysterious ailment, appears on the way out.

PETE SAGUES, former Drake High swimstar, recently was named San Jose State's outstanding senior water polo player after leading the Spartans to the runner-up spot in the last two state college meets.

ORDERS FROM 49ERS

Mira Can't Play Texas Bowl Game

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers say George Mira won't be playing in the Southwest Challenge Bowl here Jan. 4 but the Southwest Challenge Bowl people say they'll see about that. The board of directors met today to decide if it would sue somebody.

The famed passer of the University of Miami, announced a week ago as quarterback of the Southwest All-Stars in the game matching the Southwest against the rest of the nation, will play in the Senior Bowl, according to Lou Spadia, general manager of the 49ers, who hold his contract.

Spadia's ultimatum was delivered to the Southwest Challenge Bowl officials yesterday.

Bob Hamric, chairman of the selection committee, said Mira had confirmed four times that he would be here, that he already had been paid $1,000 with other benefits, and that he didn't know of a hitch in plans until he contacted Mira the fifth time.

Then Mira told him he could not play here and would have to appear in the Senior Bowl on orders of the 49ers.

Hamric declared that "I believe we have the basis for a lawsuit. I thought our deal with Mira was as firm and set as any I ever made in my life. I have a telegram in which he agrees to play in the Challenge Bowl."

Hamric added that he had sent the $1,000 to Mira's coach, Andy Gustafson, who was to hold it until after Mira played in the game here. "We have a receipt that Gustafson received the money."

Hamric said the agreement was made before Mira signed a contract with San Francisco.

Mira was to play with the Southwest All-Stars although he is not within the area. The Challenge Bowl wanted him to because it didn't have a top-flight quarterback except Duke Carlisle of Texas, who can't practice with the squad since he will play in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas Jan. 1.

WILL IT FLOURISH OR DIE?

Boxing's TV-Less Future

Independent-Journal Sports

Tuesday, Dec. 24, 1963 9

NEW YORK (AP) — Boxing promoters who have staged fistic shows with and without television had differing opinions today as to whether a total blackout of fights on television will help or hurt the hardy old sport.

Herman Taylor of Philadelphia, 76-year-old dean of American fight promoters, said "personally I can't complain about TV," but added "there is no question about TV doing boxing no good."

"We have to live with TV," said Chris Dundee of Miami Beach, Fla. "I think a lot of fans look for the Friday night fights on TV."

"Boxing will enjoy a new lease on life," said Archie Litman of Pittsburgh. "It may take longer and be more difficult to develop headline attractions. But the fans will return to the practice of paying to see to fight."

"I think one show a week on TV would help boxing," said Sam Silverman of Boston. "It has kept interest up in boxing and done a lot for it."

SHOWS GALORE

Back in the 1950s there were six network fight shows a week. They were beamed over regional and national networks on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Saturday nights.

The Gillette-sponsored Friday night bouts from Madison Square Garden and other major arenas, have been telecast since 1944. It is the longest continuous sponsored program on television.

It is the last regular fight program on television and it is tottering. The American Broadcasting Co. confirmed yesterday that it plans to drop boxing from its network scheduling in 1964, possibly in April.

A Gillette spokesman said: "This was the network's decision. We realize ABC's problem with declining ratings. Enough people just weren't watching the show and the network decided to drop it."

ABC and Gillette were reported seeking another sports program to replace the fight cards. Football, college and pro, is getting a large share of the TV advertisers' dollars.

There was another report that the change may take place as early as April although the ABC-Gillette contract with the Garden runs through September.

NO OFFICIAL WORD

"We have no notification from anyone that the weekly boxing shows will be dropped from television," said Harry Markson, director of boxing at the Garden.

"Even if these shows will be dropped from television, even if these reports about ABC and the sponsors proves to be true, that does not mean an end to Garden boxing. We ran boxing successfully before TV and will continue to do so."

If boxing goes off television, fighters will be paid on their ability to draw customers as they were in the pre-TV days. Now main event fighters are guaranteed a minimum of $4,000 each for TV fights and champions command sums up to the $100,000 range.

TOYS FOR LITTLE DAUGHTER

Ailing Father's Prayer Answered

By WAT TAKESHITA

A 49-year-old San Rafael construction worker, whose lungs are so crippled he may not live to see another Christmas, decided today that "there really is a Santa Claus."

His first wish was that Santa would not forget "my baby," blonde Debra Elaine, 3, this Christmas. The second was "for some oxygen to keep me breathing."

He is John A. Williams, 49, of 1364 Grand Avenue, apartment 7. His wife, Dorothy Holland Williams, earns $48 per week when working full time at a San Rafael toy factory, and that is the only income for the family of three.

At least a part of his wish was answered this week. Members of the San Rafael Kiwanis Club and Elks Lodge heard about his plight and delivered toys to little Debra and food for the family.

"I was at my wit's end and my life's end, and I had nowhere to turn," said Williams. "It got to the point where I couldn't help myself. But I was hoping the papers wouldn't over-dramatize it because I'm sure there are many others just as bad off."

He explained his wife's earnings are barely enough to pay the rent ($90 per month) and groceries. "We couldn't even think of Christmas shopping, but I sure hated to have Santa miss my little baby."

Breathing hard with almost every word, Williams pointed to an oxygen tank standing next to his chair. "I was taken to the hospital three nights last week for emergency oxygen and they had this delivered. But I don't know how we can pay for it," he said.

Because they came here from Kentucky only six months ago, they are not eligible for relief, he explained.

He has had emphysema about eight years, but it was not serious in Kentucky, said Williams. "I thought the climate here might help."

He did carpentry and construction work in Marin for about two months, but his lung ailment became worse.

"I have not made or had a dollar in my pocket for the last two and one-half months," Williams said.

"I didn't realize I was quite so bad until the doctor told me I might not live more than a year more."

The apartment is warm but bare of furniture. "We've been trying for a place a little cheaper, but we just can't get anything cheaper than this—$90 with utilities furnished."

During World War II, he served with the Seabees for 90 days but was discharged because of a foot injury. He said the veterans hospital at Fort Miley told him he is an incurable lung cripple. He has written to see what Social Security benefits he has coming.

"I tried to sell that car out there, but they offered me only $35 for the whole thing. We decided to keep it because it still runs and the tires alone are worth more than that."

"Up to this point, I've been able to pick her up in the evenings, but it's getting to the point where I can't. It's next to impossible to get from the house to the street," said Williams.

"Yes, there is a Santa," Williams smiled as he watched his daughter tear into the packages of toys and goodies. "May the Good Lord guide you and bless you and yours this approaching Christmas Season. For me, it may be the last, but it's going to be one of the best."

Books Given In Memory Of Librarian

Thirty-nine new books were on display today at the Mill Valley Public Library, purchased in memory of Mrs. Elizabeth Kelly, assistant librarian, who died last July. They will be put into circulation Jan. 5.

The books are on subject matter which had appealed to Mrs. Kelly and were given by 67 people. Included are several volumes of history, of which Mrs. Kelly was especially fond.

The library staff bought a dictionary stand in memory of Mrs. Kelly, who, according to librarian Ina Sloan, used to have to lean over the students studying in the reference section to get at the dictionary.

Among the collection are McGraw-Hill's "Encyclopedia of Russia and the Soviet Union"; "The World of the Past," edited by Jacquetta Hawkes; "The Harper Encyclopedia of Science"; Goethe's "Italian Journey," and eight children's books given by 23 of the staff of Sam's Anchor Cafe, Tiburon.

Water District Salaries Hiked

An across-the-board salary increase of 4 per cent was authorized for 1964. The increase will cost about $40,000.

Last year the board granted an increase of 3.8 per cent. General Mgr. William R. Seeger said the increase was based on the findings of a survey of salaries paid in all types of governmental agencies and private concerns in the Bay Area.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

1. Heard Seeger estimate that it will cost about $33,000 to remodel the San Rafael corporation yard and handle increased cost of operations to accommodate plans for widening Highway 101.

2. Approved purchase of 635 water meters from Rockwell Manufacturing Co. for about $30 apiece.

3. Renewed the contract for the supply of chlorine from Tops Chemical Co. of Richmond at 14 cents a pound.

4. Renewed the lease with the Young Men's Christian Assn. for a summer camp at Deer Park, outside Fairfax.

5. Approved a pipeline extension for 140 customers in Marinwood Oaks for $42,525 and for the Dominican Convent property in Sleepy Hollow for $41,496.

Haitians Are Aided By Marinite

Larkspur real estate broker Maggi Walker was to arrive in Port Au Prince Haiti, today to spend Christmas with a Haitian family she is trying to bring to the United States.

Between today and Sunday, Mrs. Walker plans to clear up the remaining restrictions of red tape which are holding up the departure for Marin County of the family of seven.

Mrs. Walker met the family a year ago when she was befriended by them while traveling in Haiti. Since then, she has sent them clothing to replace possessions ruined in hurricane Flora, which struck the Carribean the first week of October. Haiti was battered by 140-mile an hour winds for nine hours Oct. 4. Dr. Gerald Philippeau, Haiti minister of health, said Port Au Prince was devastated by the storm.

Brown Fires Parting Shot At Council

Carl J. Brown, resigning chairman of the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission, fired a parting shot at the San Rafael City Council yesterday for "lack of communication" with park commissioners.

"They (the city council) go their way and we go ours," he said. "We want to be informed."

Brown was particularly concerned about the "lack of communication" about the status of land being considered by parks commissioners for possible park sites.

Brown has served on the parks commission since 1957. The city council will appoint a successor to complete his term ending next Oct. 1.

Christmas Tree Hill Plan Fades

The Christmas Tree Hill Dwellers Assn. in Corte Madera did not quite revive the custom of lighting up the hill as a huge Christmas tree this year.

Ronald J. Lampky, in charge of making the arrangements for the association, admitted today that response had "not been too enthusiastic."

He blamed the late decision by the association to light the hill, and indifference of property owners to setting out different colored light bulbs which would make the hill resemble a Christmas tree from Highway 101.

Blood Center Days Change

Marin Blood Center, 506 Fourth Street, San Rafael, will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. this Thursday and the following Thursday rather than regularly scheduled Wednesdays.

Otherwise, regular days of Monday and Friday each week will be observed. The center will revert to Monday, Wednesday and Fridays again starting Jan. 6.

Holidays falling on Wednesday caused the temporary change.

BREAK FOR FISHERMAN

Judge Sending Him Home For Christmas

He will be home for Christmas.

Stanfield, 42, was in court on a charge of being drunk in the streets of Sausalito. He pleaded guilty but told the judge he couldn't pay the $29 fine.

His only home, he said, is the fishing boat Mary E., out of Brookings, Ore., and its crew consists of "the skipper and myself." The skipper had gone home to Brookings for Christmas.

The usual alternative to the fine would be five days in jail, but Judge Thomas said he would make an exception.

"You'd better stay on land for a while," he said. "You'll stay in jail until 7:30 a.m. Christmas Day, but right after breakfast you can go back to the Mary E."

Jascha Heifetz Marriage Ends

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Violinist Jascha Heifetz has been divorced after 16 years of marriage.

Mrs. Frances Sears Heifetz, 53, was awarded a decree yesterday on grounds of cruelty after she testified he drove her out of their $180,000 Beverly Hills home and changed the locks to keep her from coming back.

In a cross-complaint Heifetz said his wife argued with him, required him to "go places I didn't want to go" before concerts, tore up a book under discussion at a special gathering and said he was seeing his friends too much.

Marin County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs yesterday announced he had received a letter from James Frush Jr., San Francisco engineer handling the project for the Catholic order, which now maintains a priory on the 10-acre parcel at 217 Laurel Grove Avenue, Kentfield.

The planning commission Dec. 16 turned down a use permit for the project, 6-1, after about 100 Kentfield residents jammed the hearing chambers for a two-hour session on the proposal.

Father, Son Sue For $7,352 Over Restaurant Deal

A lawsuit to collect $7,352 was filed against Jack Caristi yesterday in Marin Superior Court by his brother and nephew in a dispute over a San Rafael restaurant.

Giuseppe Caristi and his son, Joseph Caristi Jr., complained in the suit that they were persuaded by Jack to go into the restaurant business last spring at 817 Fourth Street, San Rafael. They had "trust and confidence in the defendant by reason of his superior business knowledge and experience" as well as the family relationship, the suit stated.

Last year, Giuseppe "sold his house in New York and moved to California at the urging of Jack." The suit charged that Jack knew all the time that the restaurant premises had been condemned by the City of San Rafael and "required extensive improvements."

The father and son alleged they made several loans to Jack, and they want the money back.

The non-competitive aptitude test will be given at 824 other locations throughout the United States on the same day. Applicants must be 18 years of age or older, and married couples may apply if they have no dependents under 18.

Training will begin next summer to fill requests for more than 6,000 volunteers in 46 countries. Special needs exist in Africa's Ivory Coast, Afghanistan, Pakistan, Chile and Honduras.

About one and a half hours are required to take the test.

Actor To Seek Engle's Post

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Movie actor George Murphy today announced he will seek the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate seat held by ailing Democrat Clair Engle.

"After 25 years in and around politics, I think it is time to become a politician," Murphy told a news conference held after an early morning breakfast meeting with local Republican leaders.

The actor, who twice has served as president of the Screen Actors Guild and is considered a leading spokesman for the motion picture industry, said party leaders don't generally make endorsements until after the primary election but there are indications he will not be an unwelcome candidate.

Vote On Shelley Seat 'Too Costly'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Mayor George Christopher claimed yesterday it would just be too expensive temporarily to fill Mayor-elect John F. Shelley's congressional seat.

Christopher's proposal to leave Shelley's seat open until a full-term successor is elected next November failed to win Gov. Edmund G. Brown's support.

Brown said he will set a date soon for the election.

Haitians Are Aided By Marinite

Larkspur real estate broker Maggi Walker was to arrive in Port Au Prince Haiti, today to spend Christmas with a Haitian family she is trying to bring to the United States.

Between today and Sunday, Mrs. Walker plans to clear up the remaining restrictions of red tape which are holding up the departure for Marin County of the family of seven.

Mrs. Walker met the family a year ago when she was befriended by them while traveling in Haiti. Since then, she has sent them clothing to replace possessions ruined in hurricane Flora, which struck the Carribean the first week of October. Haiti was battered by 140-mile an hour winds for nine hours Oct. 4. Dr. Gerald Philippeau, Haiti minister of health, said Port Au Prince was devastated by the storm.

Brown Fires Parting Shot At Council

Carl J. Brown, resigning chairman of the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission, fired a parting shot at the San Rafael City Council yesterday for "lack of communication" with park commissioners.

"They (the city council) go their way and we go ours," he said. "We want to be informed."

Brown was particularly concerned about the "lack of communication" about the status of land being considered by parks commissioners for possible park sites.

Brown has served on the parks commission since 1957. The city council will appoint a successor to complete his term ending next Oct. 1.

Christmas Tree Hill Plan Fades

The Christmas Tree Hill Dwellers Assn. in Corte Madera did not quite revive the custom of lighting up the hill as a huge Christmas tree this year.

Ronald J. Lampky, in charge of making the arrangements for the association, admitted today that response had "not been too enthusiastic."

He blamed the late decision by the association to light the hill, and indifference of property owners to setting out different colored light bulbs which would make the hill resemble a Christmas tree from Highway 101.

The custom of lighting the 900-foot triangular hill was last carried out about eight years ago.

BREAK FOR FISHERMAN

Judge Sending Him Home For Christmas

He will be home for Christmas.

Stanfield, 42, was in court on a charge of being drunk in the streets of Sausalito. He pleaded guilty but told the judge he couldn't pay the $29 fine.

His only home, he said, is the fishing boat Mary E., out of Brookings, Ore., and its crew consists of "the skipper and myself." The skipper had gone home to Brookings for Christmas.

"Where would you rather spend Christmas, in the county jail or on the boat?" asked Judge Thomas.

"On the boat, of course, your honor," Stanfield replied.

The usual alternative to the fine would be five days in jail, but Judge Thomas said he would make an exception.

"You'd better stay on land for a while," he said. "You'll stay in jail until 7:30 a.m. Christmas Day, but right after breakfast you can go back to the Mary E."

Jascha Heifetz Marriage Ends

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Violinist Jascha Heifetz has been divorced after 16 years of marriage.

Mrs. Frances Sears Heifetz, 53, was awarded a decree yesterday on grounds of cruelty after she testified he drove her out of their $180,000 Beverly Hills home and changed the locks to keep her from coming back.

The 63-year-old performer was ordered to pay $1,600 a month alimony and child support to his wife and son, Jay, 15.

In a cross-complaint Heifetz said his wife argued with him, required him to "go places I didn't want to go" before concerts, tore up a book under discussion at a special gathering and said he was seeing his friends too much.

Father, Son Sue For $7,352 Over Restaurant Deal

A lawsuit to collect $7,352 was filed against Jack Caristi yesterday in Marin Superior Court by his brother and nephew in a dispute over a San Rafael restaurant.

Giuseppe Caristi and his son, Joseph Caristi Jr., complained in the suit that they were persuaded by Jack to go into the restaurant business last spring at 817 Fourth Street, San Rafael. They had "trust and confidence in the defendant by reason of his superior business knowledge and experience" as well as the family relationship, the suit stated.

Last year, Giuseppe "sold his house in New York and moved to California at the urging of Jack." The suit charged that Jack knew all the time that the restaurant premises had been condemned by the City of San Rafael and "required extensive improvements."

The father and son alleged they made several loans to Jack, and they want the money back.

Actor To Seek Engle's Post

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Movie actor George Murphy today announced he will seek the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate seat held by ailing Democrat Clair Engle.

"After 25 years in and around politics, I think it is time to become a politician," Murphy told a news conference held after an early morning breakfast meeting with local Republican leaders.

The actor, who twice has served as president of the Screen Actors Guild and is considered a leading spokesman for the motion picture industry, said party leaders don't generally make endorsements until after the primary election but there are indications he will not be an unwelcome candidate.

ONE LEGEND of the Christmas stocking tells of the Bishop of Myra, a kindly cleryman who learned one Christmas of an impoverished merchant with two lovely daughters—both unmarried because their father couldn't afford dowries. The bishop dropped two bags of gold coins down the merchant's chimney on Christmas eve. The gold landed in hosiery hung on the mantel to dry and St. Nick has been dropping gifts in stockings ever since.

Traditional Christmas Legends

Who was the first child to hang his stockings on the mantle in anticipation of a visit from St. Nick? Who sent the first Christmas card? Sang the first carol? Tossed Tinsel on the first tree? Shared the first kiss under mistletoe? Enjoyed the first sip of wassail?

First to gather about the wassail bowl—today, the traditional Christmas punch bowl—were the ancient Saxons. The word "wassail" is a Saxon toast meaning "be whole" or "have health." Through the years, the word came to mean any liquor used to toast health — especially the spiced drinks served at Christmas celebrations in the Middle Ages.

THE BASIS of the mistletoe legend is an old Scandinavian myth which tells of the god Balder's narrow escape from death.

Aware of the danger to her son, Frigga, Balder's mother, secured a charm which made him immune to injury from fire, water, air, or anything on earth. The only thing she overlooked was an unimportant, harmless plant—mistletoe.

LEARNING THIS, Loki made an arrow of mistletoe and mortally wounded Balder. In desperation, Frigga begged the gods to intercede and save her son—which they did. The grateful mother decreed that, from that moment on, the plant would be a symbol of love.

Not as old, but even more complex, is the legend of the Christmas stocking. One of the versions tells of the Bishop of Myra, a kindly clergyman who lived in 4th Century Asia Minor and later became St. Nicholas.

ONE CHRISTMAS, the Bishop learned of an impoverished merchant in his city who had two lovely daughters — both unmarried because their father couldn't afford dowries.

The Bishop dropped two bags of gold coins down the merchant's chimney on Christmas Eve. Coincidentally, the family stockings were hanging on the mantle to dry and the gold landed in the hosiery.

The story, though plausible, has one loophole. Further research uncovered the fact that hose were not made with feet until the 11th Century, some 700 years after the Bishop's bounty.

A MORE likely legend is the one accrediting St. Francis of Assisi with the introduction of community carol singing. The word "carol" means "to dance in a ring." It is said that St. Francis staged a manger scene one Christmas with real people and animals. The onlookers were so delighted with what they saw that they burst into happy song. Those carolers became as important to St. Francis' Christmas celebrations as modern carolers are to ours.

Legend Of Christmas Rose Begins With A Shepherdess

There is a legend surrounding the white rose of Christmas that recounts how on that first Christmas eve a shepherdess, journeying to Bethlehem with the shepherds who had heard the angel's message, was lagging behind saddened because she had no gift to bring the new-born king. Suddenly, an angel appeared scattering white roses in her path. Joyfully, the shepherdess gathered them in her arms and laid them at the manger as her gift for the Babe.

ACCORDING TO SWEDISH legend, once upon a time on a Christmas eve, all the flowers and trees in a certain forest burst into bloom and a host of angels appeared in the sky. But, a doubting monk declared these miracles were nothing but the work of the devil. Because of his lack of faith, the forest disappeared, and to this day, only one flower—the white Christmas rose — blooms at Christmastime.

They say that on the first Christmas eve, a tiny bird with scarlet wings was brought as a gift of love to the manger. As the bird sang sweetly in the still and holy night, the Babe smiled and sighed softly. And, from the Infant's Mother came a prayer and benediction that through all eternity at Christmas, a special blessing would rest upon little children and upon little red birds—symbols of the spirit of love at that first Christmas. And, the story goes, each year on a certain eve during the Yuletide season, The Red Bird of Christmas perches on the window sill of houses where little children live and peeks inside to take a look at them while they dream quietly about Christmas.

No other sound more completely symbolizes the joy of Christmas eve than that of church bells pealing through the night. Before the birth of Christ, bells were used to announce both happy and sad events. It was not till medieval times that they became associated with Yuletide rejoicing. Today, world-famous bells, like those of Bethlehem and London, send their music around the globe on Christmas eve. The famed bells of Zurich, trained in harmony for hundreds of years, chime their sound into every nook of the wide valley from which the city reaches up to the surrounding hills.

In the mountain canyon of Valais, a tradition of bell-ringing has become a competition of bell-ringing on Christmas eve as each community in each valley tries to "outring" its rivals with the most beautiful bells.

Coming directly from sacred story and secular symbolism, the "Star of Bethlehem" or "Christmas Star" occupies an important place in churches, in homes and in community observances during the Christmas season. In homes, it often tops the glittering Christmas tree, decorates a window or door, and adds a holiday touch to gift packages and greeting cards.

Childbirth Series Scheduled To Start

The Education for Childbirth program will offer a series of class instruction in January. Both afternoon and evening classes will begin Jan. 2. Afternoon classes will be held from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. and from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

Legend Of Christmas Rose Begins With A Shepherdess

There is a legend surrounding the white rose of Christmas that recounts how on that first Christmas eve a shepherdess, journeying to Bethlehem with the shepherds who had heard the angel's message, was lagging behind saddened because she had no gift to bring the new-born king. Suddenly, an angel appeared scattering white roses in her path. Joyfully, the shepherdess gathered them in her arms and laid them at the manger as her gift for the Babe.

ACCORDING TO SWEDISH legend, once upon a time on a Christmas eve, all the flowers and trees in a certain forest burst into bloom and a host of angels appeared in the sky. But, a doubting monk declared these miracles were nothing but the work of the devil. Because of his lack of faith, the forest disappeared, and to this day, only one flower—the white Christmas rose — blooms at Christmastime.

They say that on the first Christmas eve, a tiny bird with scarlet wings was brought as a gift of love to the manger. As the bird sang sweetly in the still and holy night, the Babe smiled and sighed softly. And, from the Infant's Mother came a prayer and benediction that through all eternity at Christmas, a special blessing would rest upon little children and upon little red birds—symbols of the spirit of love at that first Christmas. And, the story goes, each year on a certain eve during the Yuletide season, The Red Bird of Christmas perches on the window sill of houses where little children live and peeks inside to take a look at them while they dream quietly about Christmas.

No other sound more completely symbolizes the joy of Christmas eve than that of church bells pealing through the night. Before the birth of Christ, bells were used to announce both happy and sad events. It was not till medieval times that they became associated with Yuletide rejoicing. Today, world-famous bells, like those of Bethlehem and London, send their music around the globe on Christmas eve. The famed bells of Zurich, trained in harmony for hundreds of years, chime their sound into every nook of the wide valley from which the city reaches up to the surrounding hills.

In the mountain canyon of Valais, a tradition of bell-ringing has become a competition of bell-ringing on Christmas eve as each community in each valley tries to "outring" its rivals with the most beautiful bells.

Coming directly from sacred story and secular symbolism, the "Star of Bethlehem" or "Christmas Star" occupies an important place in churches, in homes and in community observances during the Christmas season. In homes, it often tops the glittering Christmas tree, decorates a window or door, and adds a holiday touch to gift packages and greeting cards.

Childbirth Series Scheduled To Start

The Education for Childbirth program will offer a series of class instruction in January. Both afternoon and evening classes will begin Jan. 2. Afternoon classes will be held from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. and from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

Instructors for the winter series will be Mrs. Gunhild H. Brown and Mrs. James V. Farley Jr., registered physical therapists. The classes will meet at Mrs. Brown's office at 711 D Street, Annex, San Rafael.

The course will continue for nine weeks and will include a group of exercises to help the expectant mother be more comfortable during pregnancy. Exercises for relaxation, posture training and breathing techniques are practiced. Emphasis is given to the understanding of the processes of labor and delivery. Two of the classes are arranged so the expectant father may attend and films are shown.

Instruction to Land Buyers

First see the land which thou intend'st to buy
Within the sellers title clearly lye,

And that no woman to it doth lay claime
By dowry, joynture, or some other name,

That may incumber, know if bond or fee
The Tenure stand, and that for each feoffee

That he may lawful sell, thou lawful hold.

Have special care that it not mortgaged lye,
Nor be entailed upon posterity

Then if it stand in statute bound or noe,
Be well advised what quitt rent out must goe,

By those who formerly the same did hold.

And if a wedded woman put to sale
Deal not with her unless she brings her male,

Although sometimes some traffique soe we know

Thy bargain made and all this be done,
Have special care to make thy charter run

To thee, thy heirs, executors assigns,
For that beyond they life securely binds,

These things foreknow and done, you may prevent
Those things rash buyers many times repent,

And yet when you have done all you can,
If youle be sure, deal with an honest man.

Instruction to Land Buyers

First see the land which thou intend'st to buy
Within the sellers title clearly lye,

And that no woman to it doth lay claime
By dowry, joynture, or some other name,

That may incumber, know if bond or fee
The Tenure stand, and that for each feoffee

It be released, that th' sellers be soe old,
That he may lawful sell, thou lawful hold.

Have special care that it not mortgaged lye,
Nor be entailed upon posterity

Then if it stand in statute bound or noe,
Be well advised what quitt rent out must goe,

What custome service hath been done of old
By those who formerly the same did hold.

And if a wedded woman put to sale

For she doth under covert barren goe,
Although sometimes some traffique soe we know

Thy bargain made and all this be done,
Have special care to make thy charter run

To thee, thy heirs, executors assigns,
For that beyond they life securely binds,

These things foreknow and done, you may prevent
Those things rash buyers many times repent,

And yet when you have done all you can,
If youle be sure, deal with an honest man.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Warm—Not Hot—Mineral Baths Help Ease Away Those Tensions

VAN DELLEN

Every year thousands of people journey to national mineral baths and spas in search of health. The Romans were among the first to popularize public baths which were constructed in the vicinity of artesian wells or wherever water bubbled from the earth. I recently visited a modernized version of such a place in Palm Springs, Calif.

The hotel is built over a mineral spring that was leased from the Cahuilla Indians. They had been using it for centuries as a gathering place and health resort. Some of my friends still remember sitting in this crude desert pond with warm water bubbling from unknown sandy depths. The Palm Springs spa tapped the water which is now conveyed into several modern pools of varying temperatures.

THE SWIRLING hot water improves circulation and is relaxing. I found that many of the bathers had arthritis, backache, or muscular rheumatism. Others obviously were plagued with tension and were attracted to the spa because it brought relaxation. Prolonged tension often leads to irritability, restlessness, insomnia, and loss of efficiency. In addition, it may cause headache, in-testinal distress, or a tightness in the chest. A warm mineral bath in a vacation environment is ideal for these individuals.

Many people say: "I cannot go away or afford those distant spas. Will my own bathtub be just as good?" In all probability, it will. But the advantage of leaving home lies in rest and freedom from household and business cares. The individual concentrates on the job at hand—getting well. In addition, most devotees of spas take several treatment a day.

THERE ARE NO fountains of youth at any spa or mineral springs. Too much heat is weakening and those with heart troubles or high blood pressure should avoid prolonged exposure to the excessive temperatures in hot baths and steam rooms.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

VIRAL INFECTIONS

L. L. writes: A few months ago I was in the hospital for three weeks with a virus. Now I hear I could get it again. It there any way I can prevent a second infection!

RETPLY

No, but the law of averages is against having a second infection from the same virus. The new flu vaccine may help prevent a recurrence if your virus was one of the influenza viruses or certain adenoviruses.

WEEKLY NOSEBLEED

M. H. writes: I'm a very healthy 62 but, for several months, I've been getting a nosebleed once a week—on one side only. Does this bleeding call for treatment of any kind?

REPLY

Yes, but get a diagnosis first. There are several reasons why the nose bleeds at your age, and examination is needed to pinpoint the lesion.

ORIGINS OF MURMUR

K. Q. writes: How does a person get a heart murmur?

REPLY

Some are born with a murmur that persists into adulthood. Others have congenital defects of the heart or develop scarred or deformed valves from rheumatic fever, arteriosclerosis, or syphilis. Changes in the size of the heart or in the hemodynamics of the flow of blood thru the old ticker also cause these abnormal sounds.

ITCH MITES

J. S. writes: Can scabies get into the bedding?

REPLY

Yes. The minte may be picked up from contaminated bed linen and public towels (as well as from infected bed mates). Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on scabies.

Robbers Get Empty Wallet

Chris Ewell of Building C-13 said he was walking in an alley between apartment buildings C-13 and C-15 in Marin City when two men grabbed him from behind, pulled his hat over his eyes, and took his wallet.

They got no money, however, he said, for his wallet contained nothing but identification papers.

Marin Woman Takes Top Spot In Fish Contest

Marilyn Bones of San Rafael caught a 29-pound, 8-ounce striped bass in Tomales Bay during the last reported week of the Schenley Sportsmen's Club angling contest to take over top spot for the women.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Warm—Not Hot—Mineral Baths Help Ease Away Those Tensions

VAN DELLEN

Every year thousands of people journey to national mineral baths and spas in search of health. The Romans were among the first to popularize public baths which were constructed in the vicinity of artesian wells or wherever water bubbled from the earth. I recently visited a modernized version of such a place in Palm Springs, Calif.

The hotel is built over a mineral spring that was leased from the Cahuilla Indians. They had been using it for centuries as a gathering place and health resort. Some of my friends still remember sitting in this crude desert pond with warm water bubbling from unknown sandy depths. The Palm Springs spa tapped the water which is now conveyed into several modern pools of varying temperatures.

THE SWIRLING hot water improves circulation and is relaxing. I found that many of the bathers had arthritis, backache, or muscular rheumatism. Others obviously were plagued with tension and were attracted to the spa because it brought relaxation. Prolonged tension often leads to irritability, restlessness, insomnia, and loss of efficiency. In addition, it may cause headache, intestinal distress, or a tightness in the chest. A warm mineral bath in a vacation environment is ideal for these individuals.

Many people say: "I cannot go away or afford those distant spas. Will my own bathtub be just as good?" In all probability, it will. But the advantage of leaving home lies in rest and freedom from household and business cares. The individual concentrates on the job at hand—getting well. In addition, most devotees of spas take several treatment a day.

THERE ARE NO fountains of youth at any spa or mineral springs. Too much heat is weakening and those with heart troubles or high blood pressure should avoid prolonged exposure to the excessive temperatures in hot baths and steam rooms.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

VIRAL INFECTIONS

L. L. writes: A few months ago I was in the hospital for three weeks with a virus. Now I hear I could get it again. It there any way I can prevent a second infection!

REPLY

No, but the law of averages is against having a second infection from the same virus. The new flu vaccine may help prevent a recurrence if your virus was one of the influenza viruses or certain adenoviruses.

WEEKLY NOSEBLEED

M. H. writes: I'm a very healthy 62 but, for several months, I've been getting a nosebleed once a week—on one side only. Does this bleeding call for treatment of any kind?

REPLY

Yes, but get a diagnosis first. There are several reasons why the nose bleeds at your age, and examination is needed to pinpoint the lesion.

ORIGINS OF MURMUR

K. Q. writes: How does a person get a heart murmur?

REPLY

Some are born with a murmur that persists into adulthood. Others have congenital defects of the heart or develop scarred or deformed valves from rheumatic fever, arteriosclerosis, or syphilis. Changes in the size of the heart or in the hemodynamics of the flow of blood thru the old ticker also cause these abnormal sounds.

ITCH MITES

J. S. writes: Can scabies get into the bedding?

REPLY

Yes. The minte may be picked up from contaminated bed linen and public towels (as well as from infected bed mates). Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on scabies.

Robbers Get Empty Wallet

A 58-year-old Marin City man told Marin sheriff's deputies he was attacked by two men and robbed of his wallet Saturday night.

Chris Ewell of Building C-13 said he was walking in an alley between apartment buildings C-13 and C-15 in Marin City when two men grabbed him from behind, pulled his hat over his eyes, and took his wallet.

30 Children At Party

Mill Valley Small Boat Harbor Gets Extension

Army Corps of Engineers said today no objections were received by deadline yesterday to an extension of time on a permit for construction of the Mill Valley small boat horbor and an additional three years time will be granted.

The original permit for three years ends this Dec. 31. The corps said only about six months are actually needed for completion of the 130-boat slip project just south of Enchanted Knolls.

Bureaucrat Delays News On Resources

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Hugo Fisher, administrator of the resources agency, said he believes his order of requiring all departmental news releases to be cleared through his office, is necessary to keep the agency administration policy intact, under the statutes.

Fisher has been criticized because the edict has resulted in the delay of news stories on routine subjects as much as 24 hours.

Fisher, who was defeated in his campaign for a second term as a state senator from San Diego county, heads an agency composed of the departments of water resources, fish and game, conservation and parks and recreation.

MANY CONFLICTS

Over the years, a number of conflicts have developed between these departments on land and water use. Under the agency concept of government, these conflicts are supposed to be worked out during intra-agency discussions.

Fisher, however, believes that little of the intra-agency conflict should be publicized until the final decision of policy has been made. On this conclusion, he runs into arguments from the capitol press.

The case in point involves an order from Fisher to the department of water resources, requiring that all news releases from that department be cleared through his office for approval. The order is all-inclusive, taking in general run-of-the-mill stories, as well as policy statements.

BIDS OPENED

On Dec. 18, bids were opened at 10 a.m. for construction of facilities on the south bay aqueduct of the state water project. They concerned providing of cement or steel pipe for 2.5 miles of pipeline and four-fifths mile of discharge line. The low bid amounted to $1,202,055.

The bids were opened at 10 a.m. and, an short time later, the department of water resources information office had prepared a news release. Then it was necessary to gain clearance through Fisher's agency office.

Fred Jones, former department of fish and game water projects expert who is Fisher's assistant, was contacted. He was attending a meeting at the time and was not able to give approval to the story.

FINALLY CLEARED

Jones was finally able to give clearance to the story on the bid opening at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, the 18th. The actual story announcing opening of the bid was carried on the following day.

Thus the policy clearance order resulted in nearly a 24-hour delay on a rather routine story.

Fisher told Capitol News Service his orders were not intended to block or slow up the flow of routine news but he felt any news release or statement by any department official which had bearing on the agency policy should be cleared through his office.

OTHER CASES

There had been other instances where stories from the department of water resources had been delayed for a matter of hours, awaiting clearance through Fisher's office.

Fisher maintained that he felt it was his responsibility, under the new law which created the agency, to make sure that all statements coming from any department in the agency carried the policy set down by his office.

Meanwhile, he indicated that discussions with the director of water resources had been held and that the director—William E. Warne, former administrator of the resources agency — would make the determination of whether the news release contained policy that should be cleared through the administrator's office.

Plans To Make Jerusalem International Disturb Israel

By LEO HEIMAN
Worldwide Press Service

JERUSALEM — Israeli officials are worried about the sudden profusion of peace plans to settle all outstanding Arab-Jewish disputes in the turbulent Middle East.

At least three solutions have been advanced recently in secret talks between Israeli leaders and envoys of the Vatican, Yugoslavia and the U. S. State Department.

The Vatican solution, boosted by Pope Paul's prospective visit to the Holy Land, is to internationalize Jerusalem, and create a kind of buffer in some parts of Jordanian Palestine adjacent to Jerusalem. This buffer would be guaranteed and financed by the United Nations and the Big Powers, and would enjoy the Vatican's blessing and support.

It would be granted free access to the sea through one of the Israeli ports on the Mediterranean seashore, and in return it would absorb most of the Arab refugees.

Vatican envoys who have preceded Pope Paul and extended the first unofficial peace feelers between Israelis and Arabs have stressed that most of the sacrifices would have to be made by the Arab side, and particularly by the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan.

King Hussein of Jordan would have to give up a substantial part of his kingdom, including Old Jerusalem, Bethlehem, Jericho, Latrun and Ramallah, and perhaps even Hebron and Kallia as well, to carve out the internationalized buffer state of Jerusalem, which would have a population of over one million Arabs, Christians and Jews — if any Jews chose to remain.

All Israel would have to contribute, to make the Vatican peace plan a success, would be to give up its capital of New Jerusalem, pay compensation to the resettled refugees, and provide free access to the sea.

But Israeli officials have made very clear that no Israeli government could survive the internationalization of Jerusalem.

The emotional attachment of Israelis to the Holy City, the sacrifices made in the past to retain it, the saga of siege and blockade, and the lives of thousands of Israeli soldiers who died to break through to Jerusalem, make any change in its present status unthinkable to Jews here.

"Any Israeli government which dared to give up Jerusalem, or even to negotiate its internationalization, would be overthrown in 24 hours," says an Israeli diplomat, while conceding the merits of the Vatican peace plan.

Another peace scheme, unofficially introduced by Yugoslavia following recent off-the-record talks between Marshal Tito and Egypt's President Nasser, is based on the return to Israel of all Arab refugees who want to come back; payment of adequate compensation to those who don't; and creation of autonomous Arab areas within Israel in those districts which have a predominantly Arab population.

According to Yugoslav diplomats, Egypt is agreeable to such a solution as this. But, as one Israeli diplomat remarked caustically: "Of course Egypt is agreeable—because it means the disintegration and ultimate end of the State of Israel. We would be so weakened internally by one million Arabs that Nasser would need to make only one big push to drive us into the sea. The Yugoslav plan is an invitation to commit national suicide."

In the Israeli view, the most realistic peace plan is that supported by American diplomats. It reportedly enjoys the full support of Jordan's King Hussein also. But unless it can win the unlikely support of President Nasser, it is doomed to ultimate failure, Israeli officials say.

The American plan envisages the creation of an independent Palestine-Arab republic in the areas of former Palestine currently administered by Jordan, plus the Egyptian - controlled Gaza Strip.

This republic would absorb all Arab refugees. Together with the Palestine - Arab republic and the Kingdom of Jordan would form the Palestine-Jordan Federation, with King Hussein at its head. It would be ruled by a local parliament and government, and would get financial support from the U. S.

Israel's contribution to this plan would be compensation to the Arab refugees, and a neutral-zone corridor across Israeli territory in the Negev, linking the Gaza Strip with the proposed Palestine-Arab republic.

President Nasser is reportedly against this plan, largely because it would strengthen King Hussein's position and status while lowering his own. The birth of an Hussein-ruled Palestine-Jordan Federation would seriously jeopardize the likelihood of Pan-Arab unification under Nasser's aegis.

Israel does not like the idea of neutral-zone corridors across its territory. She would prefer a fenced-in four-lane highway and/or railroad which would cross Israel without any stops, junctions or contact with Israel's internal transportation network. This would require quite an engineering feat, but could be done, Israeli sources say.

Israel's compensation to Arab refugees is a more delicate subject, because Israel insists on deducting from any compensation settlement the value of Jewish property left behind or seized by local authorities when Jewish refugees fled from Iraq, Yemen, Syria, Lebanon and Egypt.

Israeli officials contend that the total value of Jewish property seized by Arabs outweighs all the material claims of the Arab refugees from Israel. But this point could be negotiated, they say; therefore they prefer this idea of an Hussein-ruled Palestine-Jordan Federation.

Bureaucrat Delays News On Resources

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Hugo Fisher, administrator of the resources agency, said he believes his order of requiring all departmental news releases to be cleared through his office, is necessary to keep the agency administration policy intact, under the statutes.

Fisher has been criticized because the edict has resulted in the delay of news stories on routine subjects as much as 24 hours.

Fisher, who was defeated in his campaign for a second term as a state senator from San Diego county, heads an agency composed of the departments of water resources, fish and game, conservation and parks and recreation.

MANY CONFLICTS

Over the years, a number of conflicts have developed between these departments on land and water use. Under the agency concept of government, these conflicts are supposed to be worked out during intra-agency discussions.

Fisher, however, believes that little of the intra-agency conflict should be publicized until the final decision of policy has been made. On this conclusion, he runs into arguments from the capitol press.

The case in point involves an order from Fisher to the department of water resources, requiring that all news releases from that department be cleared through his office for approval. The order is all-inclusive, taking in general run-of-the-mill stories, as well as policy statements.

BIDS OPENED

On Dec. 18, bids were opened at 10 a.m. for construction of facilities on the south bay aqueduct of the state water project. They concerned providing of cement or steel pipe for 2.5 miles of pipeline and four-fifths mile of discharge line. The low bid amounted to $1,202,055.

The bids were opened at 10 a.m. and, an short time later, the department of water resources information office had prepared a news release. Then it was necessary to gain clearance through Fisher's agency office.

Fred Jones, former department of fish and game water projects expert who is Fisher's assistant, was contacted. He was attending a meeting at the time and was not able to give approval to the story.

FINALLY CLEARED

Jones was finally able to give clearance to the story on the bid opening at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, the 18th. The actual story announcing opening of the bid was carried on the following day.

Thus the policy clearance order resulted in nearly a 24-hour delay on a rather routine story.

Fisher told Capitol News Service his orders were not intended to block or slow up the flow of routine news but he felt any news release or statement by any department official which had bearing on the agency policy should be cleared through his office.

OTHER CASES

There had been other instances where stories from the department of water resources had been delayed for a matter of hours, awaiting clearance through Fisher's office.

Fisher maintained that he felt it was his responsibility, under the new law which created the agency, to make sure that all statements coming from any department in the agency carried the policy set down by his office.

Meanwhile, he indicated that discussions with the director of water resources had been held and that the director—William E. Warne, former administrator of the resources agency—would make the determination of whether the news release contained policy that should be cleared through the administrator's office.

Plans To Make Jerusalem International Disturb Israel

By LEO HEIMAN
Worldwide Press Service

JERUSALEM — Israeli officials are worried about the sudden profusion of peace plans to settle all outstanding Arab-Jewish disputes in the turbulent Middle East.

At least three solutions have been advanced recently in secret talks between Israeli leaders and envoys of the Vatican, Yugoslavia and the U. S. State Department.

The Vatican solution, boosted by Pope Paul's prospective visit to the Holy Land, is to internationalize Jerusalem, and create a kind of buffer in some parts of Jordanian Palestine adjacent to Jerusalem. This buffer would be guaranteed and financed by the United Nations and the Big Powers, and would enjoy the Vatican's blessing and support.

It would be granted free access to the sea through one of the Israeli ports on the Mediterranean seashore, and in return it would absorb most of the Arab refugees.

Vatican envoys who have preceded Pope Paul and extended the first unofficial peace feelers between Israelis and Arabs have stressed that most of the sacrifices would have to be made by the Arab side, and particularly by the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan.

King Hussein of Jordan would have to give up a substantial part of his kingdom, including Old Jerusalem, Bethlehem, Jericho, Latrun and Ramallah, and perhaps even Hebron and Kallia as well, to carve out the internationalized buffer state of Jerusalem, which would have a population of over one million Arabs, Christians and Jews — if any Jews chose to remain.

All Israel would have to contribute, to make the Vatican peace plan a success, would be to give up its capital of New Jerusalem, pay compensation to the resettled refugees, and provide free access to the sea.

But Israeli officials have made very clear that no Israeli government could survive the internationalization of Jerusalem.

The emotional attachment of Israelis to the Holy City, the sacrifices made in the past to retain it, the saga of siege and blockade, and the lives of thousands of Israeli soldiers who died to break through to Jerusalem, make any change in its present status unthinkable to Jews here.

"Any Israeli government which dared to give up Jerusalem, or even to negotiate its internationalization, would be overthrown in 24 hours," says an Israeli diplomat, while conceding the merits of the Vatican peace plan.

Another peace scheme, unofficially introduced by Yugoslavia following recent off-the-record talks between Marshal Tito and Egypt's President Nasser, is based on the return to Israel of all Arab refugees who want to come back; payment of adequate compensation to those who don't; and creation of autonomous Arab areas within Israel in those districts which have a predominantly Arab population.

According to Yugoslav diplomats, Egypt is agreeable to such a solution as this. But, as one Israeli diplomat remarked caustically: "Of course Egypt is agreeable—because it means the disintegration and ultimate end of the State of Israel. We would be so weakened internally by one million Arabs that Nasser would need to make only one big push to drive us into the sea. The Yugoslav plan is an invitation to commit national suicide."

In the Israeli view, the most realistic peace plan is that supported by American diplomats. It reportedly enjoys the full support of Jordan's King Hussein also. But unless it can win the unlikely support of President Nasser, it is doomed to ultimate failure, Israeli officials say.

The American plan envisages the creation of an independent Palestine-Arab republic in the areas of former Palestine currently administered by Jordan, plus the Egyptian-controlled Gaza Strip.

This republic would absorb all Arab refugees. Together with the Palestine-Arab republic and the Kingdom of Jordan would form the Palestine-Jordan Federation, with King Hussein at its head. It would be ruled by a local parliament and government, and would get financial support from the U. S.

Israel's contribution to this plan would be compensation to the Arab refugees, and a neutral-zone corridor across Israeli territory in the Negev, linking the Gaza Strip with the proposed Palestine-Arab republic.

President Nasser is reportedly against this plan, largely because it would strengthen King Hussein's position and status while lowering his own. The birth of an Hussein-ruled Palestine-Jordan Federation would seriously jeopardize the likelihood of Pan-Arab unification under Nasser's aegis.

Israel does not like the idea of neutral-zone corridors across its territory. She would prefer a fenced-in four-lane highway and/or railroad which would cross Israel without any stops, junctions or contact with Israel's internal transportation network. This would require quite an engineering feat, but could be done, Israeli sources say.

Israel's compensation to Arab refugees is a more delicate subject, because Israel insists on deducting from any compensation settlement the value of Jewish property left behind or seized by local authorities when Jewish refugees fled from Iraq, Yemen, Syria, Lebanon and Egypt.

Israeli officials contend that the total value of Jewish property seized by Arabs outweighs all the material claims of the Arab refugees from Israel. But this point could be negotiated, they say; therefore they prefer this idea of an Hussein-ruled Palestine-Jordan Federation.

Mill Valley Small Boat Harbor Gets Extension

Army Corps of Engineers said today no objections were received by deadline yesterday to an extension of time on a permit for construction of the Mill Valley small boat horbor and an additional three years time will be granted.

The original permit for three years ends this Dec. 31. The corps said only about six months are actually needed for completion of the 130-boat slip project just south of Enchanted Knolls.

SANTA CAME A-CROPPER — Santa Claus tried to parachute to the roof of the T. L. Rogers home at 16 Los Cerros Drive in Greenbrae, but his 'chute caught in a tree. On lawn below, newspaperboy holds paper with headline, "Santa Claus Bails Out Over Greenbrae." Spotlights shine on figure in tree and that on lawn. Originality of this decoration, which was done by Rogers's son, Don, won second prize in Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. yule decorating contest.

CANDLE-LIT—Huge electric candles, plus wax candles in paper bags, provided Christmasy lighting for the home of Edward W. Kaenel Jr. in a woodsy setting at 100 Alder Avenue, San Anselmo. Result captured third prize in county-wide Christmas home decoration contest sponsored by Independent-Journal and San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce.

GREENBRAE WINNER—First place in Greenbrae decorating contest went to home of John F. Brennan at 120 Corte Ramon for decorating scheme which included simulated stained glass windows with angels kneeling, and a mammoth wreath across double doors. Judges called it outstanding for artistic effect.

Bright Symbols Of Christmas Shine This Week From Homes In Marin

Santa himself rocks on the porch while his wife irons and an elf polishes boots. On the porch roof, elves are seen at work on toys. On the second story roof, other elves load Santa's sleigh for its trip.

Mrs. Stitham designed the figures, and she and her husband made them. "The biggest job was choosing a theme," she said.

Pastel Lane in Novato, which each year at this season becomes "Christmas Tree Lane," is again attracting visitors this week to admire the many displays on homes and in yards.

One of the most impressive—and different — Christmas displays is also in Novato. Residents in Westridge, Monte Marin and Rancho Village subdivisions there have adopted an old Spanish custom, placing lighted candles inside paper sacks along the edges of walks. These shrouded candles, called "luminarios," provide an intriguing illumination for the entire area.

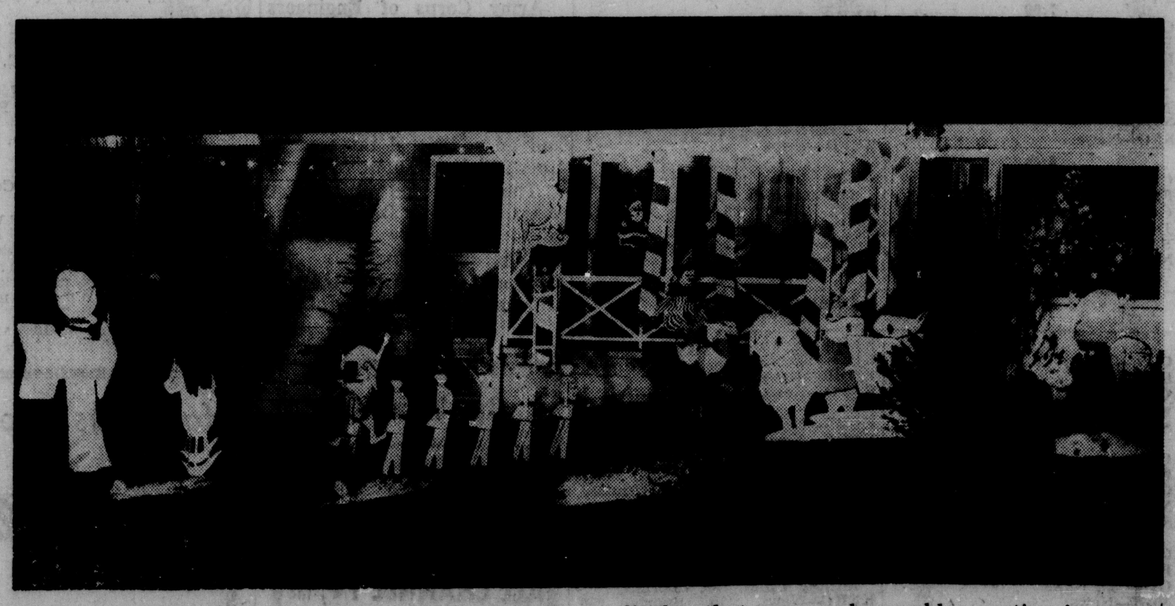
An especially impressive neighborhood decoration, new this year, is in the vicinity of St. Isabella's Church in Terra Linda. Fourteen families on Elena Court and adjacent streets there have joined to give the area the appearance of a "Christmas village," centered around a 110-foot tall lighted evergreen tree on the church property.

Throughout the county, there are other "Christmasy" home decorations worth searching out. And not to be forgotten are the firehouses, most of which wear garlands of Christmas lights to note the season.

NATIVITY SCENE—Light-flooded Nativity scene on lawn dominates decorations at home of Robert Roxberg at 46 Seawolf Passage, Corte Madera, third place winner in Mariner Cove Improvement Assn. contest. Just to make sure nothing was lacking, owners put Santa Claus on door, carolers in yard, outlined house with lights, and even lighted palm tree.

SHRUBBERY GLOWS WITH YULE LIGHTS — Judges of the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn. Christmas home decorating contest gave second award to home of Harold Miller at 232 Golden Hind Passage, Corte Madera. Angels carol in one window while Christmas tree glows through another, and colored lights on evergreen shrubbery outside add to indoor-outdoor effect.



SANTA'S WORKSHOP—Toyland figures made a display dear to the heart of youngsters at the home of A. J. McDevitt, 5 Arcangel Court, Fairfax, for a display that won an honorable mention in county-wide contest co-sponsored by Independent-Journal and San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce.

GREENBRAE WINNER—First place in Greenbrae decorating contest went to home of John F. Brennan at 120 Corte Ramon for decorating scheme which included simulated stained glass windows with angels kneeling, and a mammoth wreath across double doors. Judges called it outstanding for artistic effect.

Santa himself rocks on the porch while his wife irons and an elf polishes boots. On the porch roof, elves are seen at work on toys. On the second story roof, other elves load Santa's sleigh for its trip.

Mrs. Stitham designed the figures, and she and her husband made them. "The biggest job was choosing a theme," she said.

Pastel Lane in Novato, which each year at this season becomes "Christmas Tree Lane," is again attracting visitors this week to admire the many displays on homes and in yards.

One of the most impressive—and different — Christmas displays is also in Novato. Residents in Westridge, Monte Marin and Rancho Village subdivisions there have adopted an old Spanish custom, placing lighted candles inside paper sacks along the edges of walks. These shrouded candles, called "luminarios," provide an intriguing illumination for the entire area.
